Saigon Team Again Derided At Paris Talks

PARIS (AP) — The Viet Cong's National Liberation Front charged today that since President Johnson ordered the bombing of North Vietnam halted, the number of U.S. B52s bombing South Vietnam has doubled and the number of the B52 sorties has tripled.

NLF spokesman Duong Dinh Thao told a news conference the B52 attacks prove that the U.S. government is "continuing to intensify the war." He claimed that the giant U.S. strategic bombers dropped more than 1,000 tons of bombs near Da Nang Monday and "killed many old people, women and children with poison gas and chemical products."

If the United States and the Saigon government continue to pursue the war and obstruct the peace talks, he declared, they "will suffer even greater defeats on the battlefield, and the struggle of the South Vietnamese population temporarily under the Saigon administration will develop with ever greater intensity."

Thao also renewed the NLF's attack on South Vietnamese Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky, likening him to Hitler as another NLF spokesman did Monday.

The Communists deliberately chose a Viet Cong spokesman for their first full-dress attack on the newly arrived South Vietnamese envoys.

The symbolism of this timing — with the NLF spearheading the Communist presentation ahead of North Vietnam's delegation — was not lost on the South Vietnamese. For in the diplomatic jockeying over the war's main issue — who is to control South Vietnam — the Communists contend that the NLF is the authentic representative of the South Vietnamese people and thus the proper agency to deal with the Saigon regime.

Ky's government does not recognize the NLF, which it considers a tool of the North Vietnamese, and says it will deal only with Hanoi. The North Vietnamese reject this approach.

The wrangle is reflected in the preliminary negotiations over these points of procedure: —What will be the order of speaking at the first four-delegation session? The United States and South Vietnam do not want the NLF to seem to get precedence over Saigon.

—What shape will the negotiating table be?

Reds Stronger Inside Thailand

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Thai fighter-bombers and helicopter gunships made a major effort this week to break up terrorist strongholds in Communist-controlled areas of the northeast, official sources said today.

This was the first time the U.S.-built T28 fighter-bombers had been sent on bombing and strafing runs in the area about 300 miles northeast of Bangkok.

This showed government concern with the rise in Communist-led insurgency. The insurgents are better armed and are more willing to battle government forces.

Nigerians Halt Food To Ibos

ASABA, Nigeria (AP) — Eight thousand Ibo tribesmen will be without food by Friday because of a row between white International Red Cross workers and Nigerian officials.

"We will run out of food Friday," Father Hugh Conlon, an Irish priest, said Monday to Maj. T. K. Adamu, the federal commander of the Asaba sector adjoining rebel Biafran territory.

"God will provide," replied Adamu with a faint smile. While both men spoke, gunfire could be heard across the Niger River. Adamu said federal troops were mopping up some Biafran secessionists after establishing a beachhead at Onitsha.

A week ago Adamu expelled the last five International Red Cross workers from his sector after a dispute that provoked antiwhite slogans in Asaba's refugee camp and accusations of spying against European relief workers.

They included an Austrian doctor and two male nurses, an American and a Norwegian.

Asaba's 8,000 residents, who rely on the International Red Cross for food, now receive none. Five hundred tons of food and medical supplies are locked in a warehouse here, but the key is 280 miles away in Lagos, held by Robert G. Koepp, a former Peace Corps member from Los Angeles, Calif.

In the refugee camp where the dispute started, there is plenty of food. The Nigerian army provides for the 2,100 inmates.

Father Conlon, a veteran missionary, used to provide for the spiritual needs of Asaba. He is now trying to save the population, shrunk from 25,000 to 8,000 since the civil war, from starvation. International observers under Maj. Gen. William A. Milroy of Canada also are investigating the expulsion of Red Cross workers and attempting to arrange a reconciliation.

The Asaba argument is just one example of the distrust prevalent in Nigeria since the Red Cross relief operation started last July.

Sources in Asaba claim a succession of English, Norwegian and Austrian medical teams never stayed in town long enough to gain the confidence of the people.

VC Attack Bases, Towns; Burn Homes

SAIGON (AP) — Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops battled American infantrymen at two points north of Saigon Monday, shelled a dozen bases and towns during the night and burned down 125 homes in two undefended hamlets in the Central Highlands, military spokesmen reported today.

The ground fighting was on familiar battlegrounds along the dusty underbrush and towering forests about 60 miles north of Saigon and only four miles from An Loc, a key provincial capital.

About 150 troops from the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division were out looking for troops of the North Vietnamese 7th Division when they came under intense fire from well fortified bunkers.

"It was close in fighting," said a U.S. spokesman. U.S. Air Force divv bombers came to the aid of the air cavalrymen, and 45 of the enemy were reported killed in the day-long fight. But 14 of the American soldiers were killed and 17 were wounded.

Steve Knece Is Improving

Stephen Knece, 19-year-old kidney transplant patient, has passed another critical point in his life since he acquired his new kidney on Nov. 5.

Mrs. Helen Knece, his mother, reported that doctors are "encouraged" with his condition. However, they informed her that his body could reject the kidney at any time during his life, making it necessary for him to take anti-rejection drugs at regular intervals.

The fund established in his name has grown by another $202.82. It now totals, $10,083.71.

The Five Points community turned in $172.82 today for the fund; $79.65 came from a door-to-door collection; $48.75 from a bake sale; $25 from the Monrovia Garden Club; $5 from the Five Points MYF; and $14.42 from a collection box at the Josephine Sines Store. A check for $10 was also received from the Junior Hi-Y Club of Circleville in addition to a $20 individual donation.

NEW YORK (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk will return to the Rockefeller Foundation as its first "distinguished fellow" after completing his Washington duties Jan. 20.

Rusk, who was president of the foundation from 1952 to 1961 when he resigned to become President Kennedy's Secretary of State, will draw up his own program of research and studies, a foundation spokesman said Monday.

Man's Credit Rating Ruined As Bureau Error Not Fixed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A television newsman told the opening session of a Senate investigation today his credit rating was ruined after a mistaken report that his car had been repossessed.

He said Ford Motor Credit Co., blamed for initiating the report, even notified credit rating bureaus the 1964 report was false, "but the credit bureaus failed to comply with the firm's instructions."

"As the result of a long feud with credit bureaus, it is presently impossible for me to obtain a credit report at all," said

Leon B. Sanders of Shreveport, La., in testimony prepared for a subcommittee investigating credit reporting firms.

But John L. Spafford of Houston, Tex., representing a national association of credit bureaus, asked the subcommittee "to keep the few, isolated complaints against credit bureaus in proper focus."

"It is extremely important to consider such complaints in relation to the overwhelming number of consumers whose credit is consistently approved," said Spafford in prepared testimony.

Subcommittee investigators said Sanders was selected from hundreds who had complained to Sen. Philip A. Hart about credit bureaus, whose reports play a major role in determining who receives charge accounts and loans.

Hart, D-Mich., chairman of the antitrust and monopoly subcommittee, said earlier the panel, which ends its hearing Wednesday, "will be concerned with what competitive safeguards are operating on an industry that has such an impact on the consumer's ability to buy."

Navy Orders More Rocket Stands From Indicted Firm

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy has ordered another big supply of 2.75-inch rocket launchers from a St. Louis firm which is under federal indictment for alleged kickbacks on previous launcher contracts.

The Pentagon's daily contract Monday included one paragraph saying Alco Inc. of St. Louis would get a $5,042,549 "modification to an existing fixed price letter contract" for launchers.

This is the company which was named with five other defendants in a federal indictment Aug. 7 charging them with channeling $4 million from over $47 million in contracts, into Swiss banks.

The indictment said the defendants knew "that their interest in accounts in Swiss banks could and would be disguised and concealed" by co-conspirators.

Even as Alco was under investigation before the indictment, the Navy on July 23 awarded Alco's Techfab Division, maker of the launchers, a $13.9 million contract for the devices.

The Navy later defended the $13.9 million award on grounds that the launchers were urgently needed in Vietnam and Techfab was the only available producer.

Asked about Monday's contract, the Navy said it still hasn't been able to develop a second source but is only days away from getting different bids.

Apollo Countdown Halted By Valve

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The launch crew today began rerunning the final nine hours of a 102-hour practice countdown for the Apollo 8 mission.

A leaking valve halted the test Monday just two hours before it was scheduled to be completed. The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the trouble would not affect the scheduled Dec. 21 blastoff of Apollo 8 with its three-man crew to circle the moon.

Bitter Cold Plunges Way Into South

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Bitter-cold weather numbed the Northeast today and drove temperatures down to the 20s as far south as northern Florida.

The mercury slid below zero from northwestern Pennsylvania into New England. Bradford, Pa., and Watertown, N. Y., registered 5 below well before daybreak. Boston and New York City chilled to 10 above.

As the arctic chill swept down the Eastern seaboard, frost whitened the South from Virginia to Florida for the second morning in a row. Tallahassee, Fla., and Richmond, Va., were stung by 23-degree readings.

The midcontinent, however, warmed somewhat after a week-long freeze and early morning temperatures in the 20s and 30s were widespread from the Rockies to the western Great Lakes.

Snow or flurries dusted an area from the Great Lakes into the northern Appalachians. In the Far West, a pair of storm centers flung heavy rain along the northern half of the Pacific Coast and dumped snow inland over higher terrain. More than 2 inches of rain soaked Cape Blanco, on the lower Oregon coast, during the night.

Neither have there been any applicants for the Fire Department except for two men presently serving as provisional appointees of the safety director.

Special Ohio School Votes Held Today

56 Districts Seek Approval Of Tax Levies

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Voters in 56 Ohio school districts were being asked a second time today to raise taxes for more school operating funds.

The levy proposals, ranging from one to 13 mills, all were rejected by voters Nov. 5.

Two of the districts with levies on the ballot have run out of funds and have closed their schools. Six other districts say they are in serious financial trouble and also may have to close down schools if voters turn down their levy requests again.

Meanwhile, residents of two other districts also faced with school closings approved levy proposals in elections held Monday. A 5.7-mill operating levy for the Ottawa - Glandorf District in Putnam County was approved, 1,260-1,045, while in the Lakota District in Sandusky, Seneca and Wood counties, (Continued on Page 2)

Rocky Says He'll Seek A 4th Term

NEW YORK (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller says he intends to run for a fourth term as governor, primarily to complete major urban development programs which he started.

"I am planning to run again in 1970 unless something intervenes in the meantime," Rockefeller said Monday.

"I've got these things going," the governor said, "the Urban Development Corp., the Metropolitan Transportation Authority and the antipollution programs—that are ready to help the cities and the state—and I wouldn't want to leave them."

The $6 billion Urban development program has broad rebuilding powers. The programs, Rockefeller continued, "haven't yet been realized, and they might never be realized if I don't follow them through."

Rockefeller discussed his urban programs Monday morning in a speech before the 45th annual Congress of the National League of Cities in New Orleans. He flew back to New York later in the day aboard his private plane.

Arab Hopes Rise For Sympathetic Attitude By U.S.

BEIRUT (AP) — William W. Scranton's tour of the Middle East has raised Arab hopes that the Nixon administration may be more sympathetic to the Arabs than the Johnson administration was.

When the former governor of Pennsylvania arrived in the Arab world last week on a fact-finding tour for President-elect Nixon, he said he foresaw "no immediate basic change" in U.S. policy toward the Middle East. But when he crossed the Allenby Bridge into Israel Monday, he said American policy should be "more even-handed."

Sheppard Says He Will Live In California

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, who is being sued for divorce, says he and his wife "are two dominant people and we just aren't compatible."

The Columbus Citizen-Journal quoted Sheppard in a copyrighted story today as saying "I still feel love for her," in reference to his German-born wife, Ariane. Sheppard was in Columbus Monday but refused to answer questions of most newsmen.

However, The Citizen-Journal story quotes the former Cleveland osteopath as saying, "I'd like to be just like your next door neighbor. I don't know if I'll ever achieve that, but I'm going to try. I am sick of the nauseating smatter of my name across newspapers and I would think the public is sick of it, too."

Sheriff's officers in Cuyahoga County say they have been unable to find Sheppard to serve the divorce petition on him. The action charges neglect and extreme cruelty and Mrs. Sheppard seeks a restraining order to prevent Sheppard from seeing her.

Sheppard is quoted by the newspaper as saying he went west before the divorce was filed to establish a Nevada residence "and obtain a quiet divorce there."

He said he had lived in Los Angeles before returning to Columbus on a commercial plane "on an airline ticket purchased in my own name." Sheppard said he planned to go to Washington, D. C., to pick up his car and drive it back to Ohio.

SAIGON (AP) — Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops battled American infantrymen at two points north of Saigon Monday, shelled a dozen bases and towns during the night and burned down 125 homes in two undefended hamlets in the Central Highlands, military spokesmen reported today.

The ground fighting was on familiar battlegrounds along the jungle routes leading toward Saigon. A total of 16 Americans and 59 of the enemy were reported killed in the two encounters, and 19 Americans were wounded.

The heaviest fighting raged in dusty underbrush and towering forests about 60 miles north of Saigon and only four miles from An Loc, a key provincial capital.

U.S. Air Force divv bombers came to the aid of the air cavalrymen, and 45 of the enemy were reported killed in the day-long fight. But 14 of the American soldiers were killed and 17 were wounded.

OSLO, Norway (AP) — The Nobel Peace Prize was presented to Prof. Rene Cassin of France today for his human rights work.

Cassin, a spry 81, received the gold medal and $70,000 on the 20th anniversary of the Declaration of Human Rights by the U.N. General Assembly in Paris. He was one of the foremost contributors in the drafting of the declaration.

Rusk To Become 'Distinguished Fellow'

NEW YORK (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk will return to the Rockefeller Foundation as its first "distinguished fellow" after completing his Washington duties Jan. 20.

Rusk, who was president of the foundation from 1952 to 1961 when he resigned to become President Kennedy's Secretary of State, will draw up his own program of research and studies, a foundation spokesman said Monday.

Earlier Monday, Nixon met

Leon B. Sanders of Shreveport, La., in testimony prepared for a subcommittee investigating credit reporting firms.

But John L. Spafford of Houston, Tex., representing a national association of credit bureaus, asked the subcommittee "to keep the few, isolated complaints against credit bureaus in proper focus."

"It is extremely important to consider such complaints in relation to the overwhelming number of consumers whose credit is consistently approved," said Spafford in prepared testimony.

Subcommittee investigators said Sanders was selected from hundreds who had complained to Sen. Philip A. Hart about credit bureaus, whose reports play a major role in determining who receives charge accounts and loans.

Hart, D-Mich., chairman of the antitrust and monopoly subcommittee, said earlier the panel, which ends its hearing Wednesday, "will be concerned with what competitive safeguards are operating on an industry that has such an impact on the consumer's ability to buy."

Man's Credit Rating Ruined As Bureau Error Not Fixed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A television newsman told the opening session of a Senate investigation today his credit rating was ruined after a mistaken report that his car had been repossessed.

He said Ford Motor Credit Co., blamed for initiating the report, even notified credit rating bureaus the 1964 report was false, "but the credit bureaus failed to comply with the firm's instructions."

"As the result of a long feud with credit bureaus, it is presently impossible for me to obtain a credit report at all," said

VC Attack Bases, Towns; Burn Homes

SAIGON (AP) — Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops battled American infantrymen at two points north of Saigon Monday, shelled a dozen bases and towns during the night and burned down 125 homes in two undefended hamlets in the Central Highlands, military spokesmen reported today.

The ground fighting was on familiar battlegrounds along the jungle routes leading toward Saigon. A total of 16 Americans and 59 of the enemy were reported killed in the two encounters, and 19 Americans were wounded.

The heaviest fighting raged in dusty underbrush and towering forests about 60 miles north of Saigon and only four miles from An Loc, a key provincial capital.

About 150 troops from the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division were out looking for troops of the North Vietnamese 7th Division when they came under intense fire from well fortified bunkers.

"It was close in fighting," said a U.S. spokesman.

U.S. Air Force divv bombers came to the aid of the air cavalrymen, and 45 of the enemy were reported killed in the day-long fight. But 14 of the American soldiers were killed and 17 were wounded.

Steve Knece Is Improving

Stephen Knece, 19-year-old kidney transplant patient, has passed another critical point in his life since he acquired his new kidney on Nov. 5.

Mrs. Helen Knece, his mother, reported that doctors are "encouraged" with his condition. However, they informed her that his body could reject the kidney at any time during his life, making it necessary for him to take anti-rejection drugs at regular intervals.

west of Saigon, U.S. infantrymen and an armored column from the 25th Division clashed with enemy troops while on a sweep. At least 14 enemy bodies were found afterward, cut down by fire from armored personnel carriers, helicopter gunships and artillery. Two Americans were killed and two wounded, and a Communist defector scouting for the American infantrymen also was killed.

U.S. intelligence sources say the enemy has 15,000 to 25,000 troops deployed along a 100-mile stretch of the Cambodian border.

"It could be he has as many as 30,000," the source said, "but I don't think so."

Harry R. Gard Dead At 75

Mr. Harry R. Gard, well-known retail merchant of Circleville, died 2:15 a.m. Tuesday in Berger Hospital at the age of 75.

He started in business in Circleville as a newspaper distributor. The operation was later expanded to become a variety store which he continued to operate until his death.

Born June 20, 1893 in Columbus, he was the son of Hiram and Rosa Dotter Gard.

He is survived by his widow, Margaret Dordard Gard, who worked with her husband in their business at 236 E. Franklin St.; a daughter, Mrs. Raymond (Ruth) Reichelderfer, Route 4; and three grandchildren. A son, Charles, preceded him in death.

SERVICES will be 1:30 p.m. Friday in Good Shepherd United Methodist Church, where he was a member. The Rev. Eugene Flowers will officiate. Burial will be in Forest Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Defenbaugh Funeral Home beginning 7 p.m. Wednesday.

The family would appreciate memorial contributions to the Organ Fund of the Good Shepherd United Methodist Church.

Hodges Trial Under Way

LONDON, Ohio (AP)—Mark Hodges' second trial on a shooting charge began Monday with selection of a jury and testimony by three prosecution witnesses.

The former Beaverdam service station attendant is charged with shooting with intent to kill in the August 1967 wounding of Denise Fortner, a Napoleon high school girl.

Hodges' first trial in Henry County ended in a mistrial and he was granted a change of venue for a second trial in Madison County Common Pleas Court.

The jury of seven men and five women and two alternates was selected Monday after four hours of examination.

Then they heard testimony by Dr. Homer Brown of Hamler, who was first to arrive at the shooting scene; Dr. Carlos Diaz, who removed the bullet from Miss Fortner, and Lois Coffin, Defiance Hospital records librarian.

Thomas M. Herbert Takes Oath From Retiring Father

By DON BANDY
Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Another Herbert will be sworn in Wednesday as an Ohio Supreme Court justice.

Retiring Justice Paul M. Herbert, 79, will use the family's ancient Welsh Bible to give the oath of office to his successor and son, Thomas M. Herbert, 41.

"There's going to be a lump in my throat," said Thomas Herbert, preparing for the move to the high court from the Franklin County Court of Appeals, where he is currently a judge.

"It's really thrilling just being permitted to serve on the Supreme Court. It's a challenge and a tremendous honor. But it's icing on the cake to be able to follow my father on the court and a double thrill to be sworn in by him."

Herbert, father of two, will take over his father's seat Jan. 2.

The elder Herbert is retiring after six years on the court and a career that spanned 41 years as a trial lawyer, five terms as lieutenant governor and four terms in the general assembly.

His son, likewise, is not new to politics, having served three terms in the Ohio House before embarking on a judicial career. Kingsley A. Taft also will be sworn in Wednesday to his second six-year term as chief justice, along with Justice John M. Matthias, who is beginning a new term. Taft has been on the court 20 years and Matthias 14 years.

County Court Vacates 8-Year-Old Sentence

A man sentenced to prison eight years ago by the local Common Pleas Court was ordered released today because he was not informed of his rights to counsel at his arraignment.

James Hanning was sentenced Sept. 24, 1960 by Judge William Ammer to 1-20 years at hard labor on two counts of forgery. Hanning had entered a plea of guilty to both counts.

Recently Hanning requested that the decision against him be vacated due to 1964 high court rulings that require defendants in criminal cases to be informed of their rights to counsel. The 1964 decisions were declared by the Supreme Court to be retroactive.

In the decree vacating his earlier decision Judge Ammer states that no records of the arraignment were made by the court. Due to lack of records showing that Hanning was represented by counsel or was informed of his right to counsel, the judge stated that he felt compelled to vacate the prison sentence.

Hanning's present request for appointed counsel for the possible re-trial is awaiting a court investigation of his financial resources.

Farm Struggle Draws Fire Of Economist

Urges Approach From New Angle On Supports

KANSAS CITY (AP)—One of President-elect Nixon's top farm advisers says the struggle between those who want more government in agriculture and those who want less resembles a football game in which the time is running out.

Economist Don Faarlberg of Purdue University, said in remarks prepared for the American Farm Bureau Federation convention today that "the ball is in midfield" and neither side is gaining ground.

"One team runs a series of plays and is forced to punt," the former Eisenhower administration farm official said. "The other team then fails to gain, and also is forced to kick. There has been no score now for a long time, and the fans, who are paying for this show, are getting a little weary."

Faarlberg, who has played a key role in Nixon's farm policy development, said so much energy has been used in the ancient battle that other major farm problems have been overshadowed.

Among these, he said, are questions of rural poverty, the migration of large numbers of people out of rural areas, and the question of who is to have the decision-making role in agriculture: the family farm operator, the corporate farmer, or the agribusiness firm engaged in all levels of production and marketing.

Powell Still Faces Fight

WASHINGTON (AP)—A federal grand jury investigation of Adam Clayton Powell has been delayed, but a congressional opponent says he still will seek to bar the Harlem Democrat from reclaiming his House seat.

Powell was not immediately available for comment.

Powell was excluded from the 90th Congress March 1, 1967. The House, in a 278-to-176 vote, went further than the recommendation by a select nine-man committee that he be censured.

He was accused of using public funds for his own pleasure, keeping his wife on the congressional payroll while pocketing her salary and making private airline trips at government expense.

PICCA Awaits Program OK

PICCA (Pickaway County Community Action) will have a funded health, community organization, day care and day nursery program next year if they are approved by the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO).

The group's Board of Trustees passed these projects at its monthly meeting Monday night at the Episcopal Parish House. In addition, money was approved for operation and maintenance of PICCA's main office and administrative staff.

All funding requests will now be forwarded to the OEO Regional Office, Chicago, for approval. It will probably be near February before the requested money is approved and available.

The approximate funding breakdowns are: Program and Administration, $23,000; Health, $38,000; Community Organization, $7,800; Child Day Care, $28,000; and Day Nursery (part-time), $4,200. In addition, $500 was set aside for legal services.

Last month PICCA approved the summer Head Start program for 1969.

Dr. David Goldschmidt, president, Mike Flynn, executive director, and Mrs. Jane Estenson, health director, will attend the OEO Regional Convention on Dec. 17-19 in Chicago.

where tax requests have been denied four straight times, voters approved a 5-mill operating levy, by a 1,164-615 vote.

Voters in Hamilton County's Forest Hills District gave the go-ahead to a 5-mill operating levy by a vote of 2,798-2,566. But in the New Riegel School District in Seneca County voters again rejected a 4.5-mill levy, this time 321-110.

Voters in the Nelsonville-York City School District in Athens County were deciding today whether their school will reopen before next year. Schools were closed at Thanksgiving, and if the 7-mill proposal is approved they are scheduled to open Dec. 12.

The Ostego Local School District in Wood County, which is asking voters for 3.5 mills in new money, closed schools Dec. 1 and plans to reopen them Jan. 12.

Marietta schools face even more serious problems. Officials say the 22.6-mill renewal and additional levy are needed if schools are to stay open after Dec. 20, and if the levies fail, the district also faces the possibility of losing its state aid.

The Hamilton Local School District in Franklin County is asking for 13 mills in new money. The board there is talking about an April 1 closing if the levy fails. If it passes, the district hopes to be able to borrow against it to stay open Jan. 1-20.

Schools will close Wednesday until the first of the year in the North Central District in Williams County if voters reject a 5-mill levy.

Three other districts, C. R. Coblenz in Preble and Darke counties, Conneaut City in Ash-tabula and Central Local in Williams and Defiance counties, will be hard-pressed for operating funds if their levies fail. They are requesting 9 mills, 3.9 and 5 mills in new money, respectively.

Proposed Ohio Drug Law Would Close Big Loophole

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A proposed law to close a loophole by making mere possession of a dangerous drug or narcotic illegal in Ohio is being considered for submission to the General Assembly.

Frank E. Kunkel, executive secretary, State Board of Pharmacy, said he is discussing the proposal with the Attorney General's Office and the Ohio Crime

Commission, but no decision has yet been reached on whether to draft a law.

The present dangerous drug law in Ohio says that illegal possession is when a person has 150 doses or more of a drug not obtained through a prescription or other legal means.

This is a loophole that many feel should be plugged, Kunkel said. He explained that the 150 was an arbitrary figure adopted in the original law, but that the situation has changed drastically toward the use of drugs.

Lee said if such a law is proposed it probably would carry a penalty of a $1,000 fine or a one-year prison term, or both for the first offense, with a 1-10 sentence for subsequent offenses.

Lee said legislation also may be considered to tighten restrictions on out-of-state drug wholesalers.

DWI Charge Nets $150 Fine, Jail

Henry Baird, 45, Orient, was fined $150 and costs by Municipal Court Judge Sterling Lamb for driving a motor vehicle while intoxicated.

Baird entered a plea of guilty to the charges filed by the Ohio State Patrol. In addition to the fine, he was sentenced to three days in the County Jail and had his operator's license suspended for six months.

Orville Hukill, 43, 916 Lincoln Drive, was fined $10 and costs by Judge Lamb for failure to heed a railroad crossing signal and $10 and costs for intoxication. He was found innocent of a charge of leaving the scene of an accident filed by city police.

Robert Waldren, 26, Williamsport, forfeited a $24.75 bond posted for failure to obey a stop sign.

Robert W. Roy, 33, 500 Edgewood Drive, and Charles C. Rhodes, 19, 505 N. Pickaway St., each forfeited $19 bond for speeding 70 miles per hour in a 60 mile zone.

Other motorists paid fines, costs and bond forfeitures totaling $574.

west of Saigon, U.S. infantrymen and an armored column from the 25th Division clashed with enemy troops while on a sweep. At least 14 enemy bodies were found afterward, cut down by fire from armored personnel carriers, helicopter gunships and artillery. Two Americans were killed and two wounded, and a Communist defector scouting for the American infantrymen also was killed.

U.S. intelligence sources say the enemy has 15,000 to 25,000 troops deployed along a 100-mile stretch of the Cambodian border.

"It could be he has as many as 30,000," the source said, "but I don't think so."

Harry R. Gard Dead At 75

Mr. Harry R. Gard, well-known retail merchant of Circleville, died 2:15 a.m. Tuesday in Berger Hospital at the age of 75.

He started in business in Circleville as a newspaper distributor. The operation was later expanded to become a variety store which he continued to operate until his death.

Born June 20, 1883 in Columbus, he was the son of Hiram and Rosa Dotter Gard.

He is survived by his widow, Margaret Doddard Gard, who worked with her husband in their business at 236 E. Franklin St.; a daughter, Mrs. Raymond (Ruth) Reichelderfer, Route 4; and three grandchildren. A son, Charles, preceded him in death.

SERVICES will be 1:30 p.m. Friday in Good Shepherd United Methodist Church, where he was a member. The Rev. Eugene Flowers will officiate. Burial will be in Forest Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Defenbaugh Funeral Home beginning 7 p.m. Wednesday.

The family would appreciate memorial contributions to the Organ Fund of the Good Shepherd United Methodist Church.

Hodges Trial Under Way

LONDON, Ohio (AP)—Mark Hodges' second trial on a shooting charge began Monday with selection of a jury and testimony by three prosecution witnesses.

The former Beaverdam service station attendant is charged with shooting with intent to kill in the August 1967 wounding of Denise Fortner, a Napoleon high school girl.

Hodges' first trial in Henry County ended in a mistrial and he was granted a change of venue for a second trial in Madison County Common Pleas Court.

The jury of seven men and five women and two alternates was selected Monday after four hours of examination.

Then they jury heard testimony by Dr. Homer Brown of Hamler, who was first to arrive at the shooting scene; Dr. Carlos Diaz, who removed the bullet from Miss Fortner, and Lois Coffin, Defiance Hospital records librarian.

Thomas M. Herbert Takes Oath From Retiring Father

By DON BANDY
Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Another Herbert will be sworn in Wednesday as an Ohio Supreme Court justice.

Retiring Justice Paul M. Herbert, 79, will use the family's ancient Welsh Bible to give the oath of office to his successor and son, Thomas M. Herbert, 41.

"There's going to be a lump in my throat," said Thomas Herbert, preparing for the move to the high court from the Franklin County Court of Appeals, where he is currently a judge.

"It's really thrilling just being permitted to serve on the Supreme Court. It's a challenge and a tremendous honor. But it's icing on the cake to be able to follow my father on the court and a double thrill to be sworn in by him."

Herbert, father of two, will take over his father's seat Jan. 2.

The elder Herbert is retiring after six years on the court and a career that spanned 41 years as a trial lawyer, five terms as lieutenant governor and four terms in the general assembly.

His son, likewise, is not new to politics, having served three terms in the Ohio House before embarking on a judicial career.

Kingsley A. Taft also will be sworn in Wednesday to his second six-year term as chief justice, along with Justice John M. Matthias, who is beginning a new term. Taft has been on the court 20 years and Matthias 14 years.

County Court Vacates 8-Year-Old Sentence

A man sentenced to prison eight years ago by the local Common Pleas Court was ordered released today because he was not informed of his rights to counsel at his arraignment.

James Hanning was sentenced Sept. 24, 1960 by Judge William Ammer to 1-10 years at hard labor on two counts of forgery. Hanning had entered a plea of guilty to both counts.

Recently Hanning requested that the decision against him be vacated due to 1964 high court rulings that require defendants in criminal cases to be informed of their rights to counsel. The 1964 decisions were declared by the Supreme Court to be retroactive.

In the decree vacating his earlier decision Judge Ammer states that no records of the arraignment were made by the court. Due to lack of records showing that Hanning was represented by counsel or was informed of his right to counsel, the judge stated that he felt compelled to vacate the prison sentence.

Hanning's present request for appointed counsel for the possible re-trial is awaiting a court investigation of his financial resources.

Farm Struggle Draws Fire Of Economist

Urges Approach From New Angle On Supports

KANSAS CITY (AP)—One of President-elect Nixon's top farm advisers says the struggle between those who want more government in agriculture and those who want less resembles a football game in which the time is running out.

Economist Don Paarlberg of Purdue University, said in remarks prepared for the American Farm Bureau Federation convention today that "the ball is in midfield" and neither side is gaining ground.

"One team runs a series of plays and is forced to punt," the former Eisenhower administration farm official said. "The other team then fails to gain, and also is forced to kick. There has been no score now for a long time, and the fans, who are paying for this show, are getting a little weary."

Paarlberg, who has played a key role in Nixon's farm policy development, said so much energy has been used in the ancient battle that other major farm problems have been overshadowed.

Among these, he said, are questions of rural poverty, the migration of large numbers of people out of rural areas, and the question of who is to have the decision-making role in agriculture: the family farm operator, the corporate farm, or the agribusiness firm engaged in all levels of production and marketing.

Powell Still Faces Fight

WASHINGTON (AP)—A federal grand jury investigation of Adam Clayton Powell has been dropped, but a congressional opponent says he still will seek to bar the Harlem Democrat from reclaiming his House seat.

Powell was not immediately available for comment.

Powell was excluded from the 90th Congress March 1, 1967. The House, in a 278-10-176 vote, went further than the recommendation by a select nine-man committee that he be censured.

He was accused of using public funds for his own pleasure, keeping his wife on the congressional payroll while pocketing her salary and making private airline trips at government expense.

Man Charged With Shooting Dog

A German shepherd dog belonging to John Karshner of Adelphi was allegedly shot and killed by a neighbor Saturday.

Larry Brokaw will be charged in Adelphi's Mayor's court with discharging a firearm within the corporate limits, according to Ross County deputies.

Brokaw told deputies he fired at the dog which had been fighting with another dog, but did not mean to kill it. Karshner valued the dog at $500.

Schools will close Wednesday until the first of the year in the North Central District in Williams County if voters reject a 5-mill levy.

Three other districts, C. R. Coblenz in Preble and Darke counties, Conneaut City in Ash-tabula and Central Local in Williams and Defiance counties, will be hard-pressed for operating funds if their levies fail. They are requesting 9 mills, 3.9 and 5 mills in new money, respectively.

The Hamilton Local School District in Franklin County is asking for 13 mills in new money. The board there is talking about an April 1 closing if the levy fails. If it passes, the district hopes to be able to borrow against it to stay open Jan. 1-20.

Bell Computer Fouls Northern Ohio Telephones

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Outgoing long distance calls from Northern Ohio were either delayed or didn't go through at all for 45 minutes Monday afternoon when a computer malfunctioned, the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. said.

Incoming long distance calls were not affected.

A spokesman for Ohio Bell said the trouble began about 2:30 p.m. when a "computer" switch failed to operate properly.

Several thousand calls from area code 216 and 419 telephones, covering Northern Ohio from the Pennsylvania to the Indiana state line, were affected.

PICCA Awaits Program OK

PICCA (Pickaway County Community Action) will have a funded health, community organization, day care and day nursery program next year if they are approved by the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO).

The group's Board of Trustees passed these projects at its monthly meeting Monday night at the Episcopal Parish House. In addition, money was approved for operation and maintenance of PICCA's main office and administrative staff.

All funding requests will now be forwarded to the OEO Regional Office, Chicago, for approval. It will probably be near February before the requested money is approved and available.

The approximate funding breakdowns are: Program and Administration, $23,000; Health, $38,000; Community Organization, $7,800; Child Day Care, $28,000; and Day Nursery (part-time), $4,200. In addition, $500 was set aside for legal services.

Last month PICCA approved the summer Head Start program for 1969.

Dr. David Goldschmidt, president, Mike Flynn, executive director, and Mrs. Jane Estenson, health director, will attend the OEO Regional Convention on Dec. 17-19 in Chicago.

where tax requests have been denied four straight times, voters approved a 5-mill operating levy, by a 1,164-615 vote.

Voters in Hamilton County's Forest Hills District gave the go-ahead to a 5-mill operating levy by a vote of 2,798-2,566. But in the New Riegel School District in Seneca County voters again rejected a 4.5-mill levy, this time 321-110.

Voters in the Nelsonville-York City School District in Athens County were deciding today whether their school will reopen before next year. Schools were closed at Thanksgiving, and if the 7-mill proposal is approved they are scheduled to open Dec. 12.

The Ostego Local School District in Wood County, which is asking voters for 3.5 mills in new money, closed schools Dec. 1 and plans to reopen them Jan. 12.

Marietta schools face even more serious problems. Officials say the 22.6-mill renewal and additional levy are needed if schools are to stay open after Dec. 20, and if the levies fail, the district also faces the possibility of losing its state aid.

Proposed Ohio Drug Law Would Close Big Loophole

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A proposed law to close a loophole by making mere possession of a dangerous drug or narcotic illegal in Ohio is being considered for submission to the General Assembly.

Frank E. Kunkel, executive secretary, State Board of Pharmacy, said he is discussing the proposal with the Attorney General's Office and the Ohio Crime

Commission, but no decision has yet been reached on whether to draft a law.

The present dangerous drug law in Ohio says that illegal possession is when a person has 150 doses or more of a drug not obtained through a prescription or other legal means.

This is a loophole that many feel should be plugged, Kunkel said. He explained that the 150 was an arbitrary figure adopted in the original law, but that the situation has changed drastically toward the use of drugs.

Lee said if such a law is proposed it probably would carry a penalty of a $1,000 fine or a one-year prison term, or both for the first offense, with a 1-10 sentence for subsequent offenses.

Lee said legislation also may be considered to tighten restrictions on out-of-state drug wholesalers.

PETTIT'S

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

The conservatives have been biting their nails in fear that Richard Nixon might veer to the left in making his appointments. The promise to take Democrats into the Cabinet scared them: so, too, did the speculation about softly liberal Republicans in key policy jobs. But the sky hasn't fallen in at the moment of writing. When a power in the Republican South, Harry Dent of South Carolina, is named a deputy counsel in the White House along with the effective 28-year-old John Sears, who jumped from a job in Nixon's law firm to master the picture of the whole U. S. political chessboard in phenomenally brief time, it is evidence that Nixon can move with surefooted certainty.

This was doubly underlined by Nixon's first major policy appointment, that of Professor Henry A. Kissinger of Harvard as White House assistant to the President for national security. After a round of telephone calls to people who keep a watchful eye on the works of university and foundation foreign policy experts, I failed to elicit even a single derogatory remark on Kissinger. Even those who can't stand Harvard, believing it the projected shadow of the American for Democratic Action President J. Kenneth Galbraith, were quick to say that Kissinger is "Harvard with a difference."

Kissinger is supposed to be a "Europe and Atlantic" man who, like Nixon, thinks a first order of business is to restore firmness to the NATO alliance. This, after all, is simply good realism: if western Europe went to the Soviets, the rest of the world would go, too. But Kissinger is no fool about Asia; indeed, he has had his experiences in Vietnam, where he took part in abortive "peace" explorations for Washington.

The important thing about Kissinger is, in the understatement of the "Third World War" pundit, James Burnham, that he takes the existence of the Soviet Union seriously. There is more to this wryly dry observation than meets the eye. For the fact of the matter is that White House advisers during the Johnson and Kennedy administrations tended to take the Russians all too lightly. They reacted only at the eleventh hour to the presence — for weeks the subject of Senator Kenneth Keating's warnings — and of Soviet missiles in Cuba. They concluded, rather blithely in view of Hungary and Czechoslovakia at two ends of an era, that "convergence" between the Soviets and the West is inevitable; that "detente" is a simple matter of declaring its desirability; that "bridge-building" could be started before major differences in Southeast Asia and the Middle East are settled.

True enough, the White House adviser, Walt Rostow, once the chief prophet of the convergence thesis, ran into Ho Chi Minh and learned that a Marxist could still think as a Marxist. Lack of seriousness about Communism, however, has been latent in Washington throughout the 1960-68 period.

Kissinger is a tough man to pin down, for he dislikes such easy labels as "hard" and "soft." But he would certainly agree to dividing people into the bluffed and the unbluffed. He is an authority on weapons systems, but he is also a first-rate student of diplomatic psychology: he knows that atomic "deterrence" can't be considered apart from the pictures about it, sometimes fallacious, that exist in the heads of statesmen. It may be true that anti-missile systems will not stop nuclear warheads from reaching their targets. However, if a nation has an anti-missile system and its politicians believe in it, this must be considered in judging the likelihood of that nation to dare aggressive moves.

For those who have a perhaps frivolous taste for thinking about the impact of key appointments on the domestic political scene, Nixon's choice of Kissinger has its titillating side. For Kissinger was Nelson Rockefeller's chief adviser on foreign affairs questions. In picking Kissinger, Nixon has achieved a minor miracle: he has done something that must be welcomed by the Rockefeller liberals, yet he has avoided offending the conservatives. Moreover, he has selected a man who will work in easy tandem with other foreign advisers in the Nixon entourage all along. Richard V. Allen of the Hoover Institute for War, Peace and Revolution, who handled Nixon's foreign policy research during the campaign, is one of Kissinger's chief boosters.

Not all of Nixon's appointments will please everybody. But the beginnings have been auspicious.

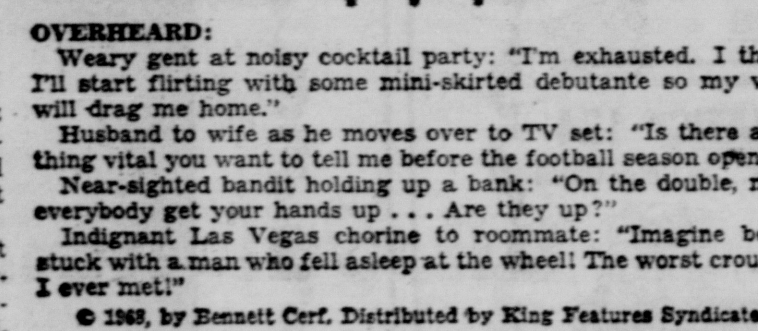

"Research has discovered why our large economy-size package hasn't been selling. It's too big to carry home!"

WELL-HEELED Londoners are experiencing the same trouble we are in finding—and keeping—satisfactory servants. Mourning her latest defeat in the kitchen department, Lady Blysdale recently wrote a friend, "The cook I hired last month was a good cook as cooks go—but as good cooks go, she went!"

A top executive told a newly hired secretary to inform Allis-Chalmers in Milwaukee he had been called suddenly out of town for an emergency and would not be able to keep a scheduled appointment. Returned to his office, he found this cartoon: "Alice Chalmers, Milwaukee. Dear Alice: I'm leaving for Houston, Texas, so our date is off." Horrified, he phoned the Allis-Chalmers people and begged them not to show the letter to anybody. "Not show it to anybody!" was the answer. "It's been on the bulletin board for three days!"

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

When once I wrote a column on dyslexia, a visual disturbance that causes difficulty in reading, I was amazed by the number of letters from readers and even doctors who differed with me about its exact meaning. I was also impressed by the fact that the real purpose of the column was lost or overlooked by those who were more interested in a technical definition than they were in alerting parents to the visual problems of their children.

That which stands out is the fact that hundreds of thousands of children with reading difficulties were classed as poor students and without muscular coordination because of unsuspected eye problems. Many of these children are poor performers and are placed in "slow classes" and wrongly treated as if they had actual brain damage or mental retardation. This stigma can persist and alter their entire adolescent and adult life unless the real problem is recognized, treated and cured.

Emotional disturbances and unusual behavior patterns in children have been traced to wrongly diagnosed, neglected and even unsuspected eye problems. Barbara Newman, a psychologist in New York City, wrote in a personal communication to me that "the complicated reading processes do not always progress in all children at the same rate of speed. There are a variety of reasons why this occurs. All of them should be tracked down and pursued relentlessly if children are to be given their birthright to develop without any shame or stigma."

A visual disturbance must be suspected in all instances of reading or study difficulty. A finely detailed examination by an eye specialist can rule out physical problems. If found these must be corrected. Psychological testing may offer a lead to the nature of the reading difficulty and personality problems.

There is now a specialty that devotes itself to the greater understanding of the nature of reading difficulty. Many universities and medical schools have departments with the most ingenious instruments to target the cause and remedy it. Unfortunately many specialists in the field complain that there are years of delay before the child is brought to them for

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Among the likely departures from Washington along with the Democratic administration is an economic idea, the belief that the economy can be fine tuned.

This is not to say that the economy never can be made to do the bidding of the monetary and fiscal masters, which are the Federal Reserve Board and those who control government spending and taxes.

But at the present time the attempt to give precise orders has failed. The economy has been disobedient, despite the theory that it can be regulated, manipulated, forced to respond in precisely predictable ways to government spending and taxes, and to the amount of money permitted to flow to business and consumers.

Fine tuning was a concept of the new Economists, the very people who put through the stunningly successful tax cut of 1964 that spurred the economy to its greatest heights ever.

This was a huge triumph. By lowering income taxes, the economy was so encouraged to expand that the federal government, although taking less from everyone, ended up with more revenue than it had been able to earn previously.

This maneuver showed how much government and its economists, under certain circumstances, can control the economy. It indicated that refinements were on the way that would eliminate depressions and inflation.

It didn't work out that way, and perhaps the most basic error of the New Economists was that it's forecasting methods were imperfect.

The year 1965 was a fateful one. A decision was made then to increase domestic and military spending without a corresponding increase in the flow of tax revenue. This was not an economic decision.

It was a contradiction also and it soon showed up in inflation. The New Economists, in theory, would have avoided inflation as dangerous to the economy.

Inflation, came however, as the New Economists fell defeated before political and other considerations.

In fact, the New Economists, the theory that sees Uncle Sam as not just the collector of revenue but the controller and manipulator of the economy as well, has not been used in three years.

When an attempt was made to put the theory back into practice earlier this year, some harmony but much discordance resulted. The fine tuners still were off their mark. Forecasting remained imperfect.

Instead of slowing under the weight of the surtax, economic expansion continued at an inflationary pace. Government spending was checked, it is true, but the consumer and business went on a spree.

Such extravagance was not foreseen. And last week fine tuning continued to produce sour notes.

Inflation persisted, and business spending plans for new plants and equipment were found to be much higher than expected, a full nine per cent over the 1968 rate. And interest rates, which had been expected to come down, were rising instead.

Perhaps the close of a chapter was the appointment of Dr. Paul McCracken as President-elect Richard M. Nixon's chief economic adviser. McCracken, a traditionalist, does not put great faith in fine tuning.

Whether this is the end of a chapter only or of the entire story cannot be foreseen. Human forecasting methods are not that precise at this point. Even New Economists might admit this.

'Laugh-In' vs Lucy

By BOB THOMAS
AP Television-Movie Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "It's those darned hour shows; they've been giving trouble to a lot of us half-hours," said Lucille Ball in analyzing the fortunes of the first season of her third television series.

To the outsider, "Here's Lucy" would seem to be far from being in trouble. The latest rating showed the half-hour comedy show in 15th place, a highly respectable position.

But to Lucille Ball the perfectionist, that isn't good enough. For most of the past 18 years Monday night has been Lucy's special property. Then along came a show called "Laugh-In." The Rowan and Martin madhouse precedes "Here's Lucy" by a half-hour, and therein lies the trouble, opines Miss Ball.

"People get hooked on hour shows and they just won't switch," she remarked in her executive suite during a break in rehearsals.

Concerning the "Laugh-In" competition, she remarked: "I never think about the opposition. I simply try to do the best job I can, and I think we've done quite well. We've had some bad shows, but we've managed some darned good ones, too. And I'm proud of the way the children have come through."

The children are her own: Lucie Arnaz, 17, and Desi Arnaz Jr., nearly 16. They are the co-stars of "Here's Lucy," and their mother explained how it happened:

"When Paramount bought out Desilu, they also bought the format of 'The Lucy Show.' It became theirs, completely. So I either had to negotiate with them to use the format, or I had to find a new one."

What Lucille wants to do is CBS's annual question mark. She is nearing the last of the 24 scheduled shows for this season, and soon she will make up her mind whether to try for another. The children are eager to do more, and it appears likely that "Here's Lucy" will be back next fall.

"If I do go back, I'll do some things differently," she commented. "I might film six of the 24 outside the studio on location. I don't really like to, nor do the children; we all like that instant response from the studio audience — it's like opening night every week."

"I would also give the children more to do, particularly in the musical vein. This season the writers didn't know how much Lucie and Desi could manage, and they didn't push them too hard. But the kids met every challenge and were eager for more."

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Tuesday, Dec. 10, the 345th day of 1968. There are 21 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1898, a treaty was signed in Paris officially ending the Spanish-American War. The Philippine Islands, Puerto Rico and Guam were ceded to the United States.

On this date: In 1817, Mississippi became the 20th state.

In 1896, the Swedish chemist, Alfred Nobel, died. The first Nobel prizes were awarded on the fifth anniversary of his death, in 1901.

In 1913, the famous Leonardo da Vinci painting, Mona Lisa, was recovered, two years after it had been stolen from the Louvre Museum in Paris.

In 1941, in the early days of the Pacific war, Japanese planes sank the British battleships Prince of Wales and Repulse in the South China Sea.

In 1955, a 72-year-old Los Angeles woman, Ethel Park Richardson, broke the record on broadcast give-aways when she won $100,000 for answering a six-part question about folk songs on NBC-TV "The Big Surprise."

In 1964, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. became the 12th American and the third Negro to win the Nobel Peace Prize.

Ten years ago — There was worldwide speculation about Soviet internal affairs after Gen. Ivan A. Serov was fired as head of the secret police in the U.S.S.R.

Five years ago: The U.S. Congress passed a $14 billion bill to aid college building programs.

Dear Editor:

In Friday's Red & Black section of the Circleville Herald, I read an article on students views as to what the Christmas holiday meant to them. Most of these boys and girls answered: "It meant being out of school, having parties, getting to sleep late, etc."

I couldn't help but think that not once did I read that it is a time we, of the Christian World, set aside in the honor of the BIRTH OF Jesus Christ. I found an article in a book I have on this very subject and would like to share it with you. The title of the article is: "Look At Christmas"

"Looking at my list of things that had to be purchased, cards to be written, and tasks to be accomplished, I noticed on the very last line these words, 'Look at Christmas.'"

"I had planned to just take some time downtown and look in all the stores, look at all the expensive decorations, all the new gadgets invented to cause people to spend money."

"The city was just as I had expected, only more so. Streets were crowded with shoppers. Stores were tempting in their gorgeous array of gifts. The Court House was decorated with expensive tinsel and bells. Across every street ropes of lights and tinsel were hanging for several blocks."

"Late that night I returned home exhausted. Opening my purse I saw my crumpled piece of paper with my list written on it. Glancing over the list I saw once again the words, 'Look at Christmas.' Suddenly I was ashamed, not only of myself, but of my town and my aid college building programs."

Christmas; we were looking at a commercial extravaganza. Where was Christ in all that rush and show?

"Yes, Look at Christmas — how much this day should mean to every Christian. Sad to say it is often desecrated."

A small child was said to have quoted John 3:16 as follows: "For God so loved the world, that He gave His only 'forgotten' Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

"What place should we give Jesus when we plan the celebration of His birthday? How wrong I was to look for Christmas in the shops and stores of the city."

"If I would find Christmas, I must first think of the one for whom it was established. I must think of the millions who have yet to hear about Christ. Although I cannot go to foreign lands and look for Christmas, I can make a gift of money to someone who wants to go to a mission field. Because there are hungry people in my own town, I can take food to the needy and helpless. So when you get ready to look for Christmas, there are some plans we might make:

"First, enthroned Christ in your heart and think first of Him on the anniversary of His birthday. Then, plan to worship Christ just as the men from the East fell down before the child and worshipped Him."

"We must worship Christ in our homes as well as at church. Plan to have a program in your home in connection with the giving of gifts. The time would be just right for reading the Christmas story from the Bible."

"We cannot truly worship and serve God if we use His birthday as an excuse to go to excess in buying gifts."

"The old saying so many people fall back upon, 'Christmas Comes but once a year,' was not born in heaven. It is no excuse for wild orgies of spending, eating and drinking. How many people use this time as a chance to 'really have a ball as they go out to party after party and 'tie one on?' Do we find Christmas in a bar with a glass in our hands? I think not."

"Look at Christmas — a family day, a happy day, a day we long have cherished. So let us see the good we can do for others as we introduce them to Jesus, the Saviour of the world, so they too may know where to really look for Christmas, and why this day of His birthday is celebrated throughout the whole Christian World. They reacted only at the eleventh hour to the presence — for weeks the subject of Senator Kenneth Keating's warnings — and of Soviet missiles in Cuba. They concluded, rather blithely in view of Hungary and Czechoslovakia at two ends of an era, that "convergence" between the Soviets and the West is inevitable; that "detente" is a simple matter of declaring its desirability; that "bridge-building" could be started before major differences in Southeast Asia and the Middle East are settled.

True enough, the White House adviser, Walt Rostow, once the chief prophet of the convergence thesis, ran into Ho Chi Minh and learned that a Marxist could still think as a Marxist. Lack of seriousness about Communism, however, has been latent in Washington throughout the 1960-68 period.

Kissinger is a tough man to pin down, for he dislikes such easy labels as "hard" and "soft." But he would certainly agree to dividing people into the bluffed and the unbluffed. He is an authority on weapons systems, but he is also a first-rate student of diplomatic psychology: he knows that atomic "deterrence" can't be considered apart from the pictures about it, sometimes fallacious, that exist in the heads of statesmen. It may be true that anti-missile systems will not stop nuclear warheads from reaching their targets. However, if a nation has an anti-missile system and its politicians believe in it, this must be considered in judging the likelihood of that nation to dare aggressive moves.

For those who have a perhaps frivolous taste for thinking about the impact of key appointments on the domestic political scene, Nixon's choice of Kissinger has its titillating side. For Kissinger was Nelson Rockefeller's chief adviser on foreign affairs questions. In picking Kissinger, Nixon has achieved a minor miracle: he has done something that must be welcomed by the Rockefeller liberals, yet he has avoided offending the conservatives. Moreover, he has selected a man who will work in easy tandem with other foreign affairs advisers who have been in the Nixon entourage all along. Richard V. Allen of the Hoover Institute for War, Peace and Revolution, who handled Nixon's foreign policy research during the campaign, is one of Kissinger's chief boosters.

Not all of Nixon's appointments will please everybody. But the beginnings have been auspicious.

WELL-HEELED Londoners are experiencing the same trouble we are in finding—and keeping—satisfactory servants. "Mourning her latest defeat in the kitchen department, Lady Blysdale recently wrote a friend, 'The cook I hired last month was a good cook as cooks go—but as good cooks go, she went!'"

A top executive told a newly hired secretary to inform Allis-Chalmers in Milwaukee he had been called suddenly out of town for an emergency and would not be able to keep a scheduled appointment. Returned to his office, he found this carbon: "Alice Chalmers, Milwaukee. Dear Alice: I'm leaving for Houston, Texas, so our date is off." Horrified, he phoned the Allis-Chalmers people and begged them not to show the letter to anybody. "Not show it to anybody!" was the answer. "It's been on the bulletin board for three days!"

OVERHEARD: Weary gent at noisy cocktail party: "I'm exhausted. I think I'll start flirting with some mini-skirted debutante so my wife will drag me home."

Husband to wife as he moves over to TV set: "Is there anything vital you want to tell me before the football season opens?"

Near-sighted bandit holding up a bank: "On the double, now, everybody get your hands up... Are they up?"

Indignant Las Vegas chorine to roommate: "Imagine being stuck with a man who fell asleep at the wheel! The worst croupies I ever met!"

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

When once I wrote a column on dyslexia, a visual disturbance that causes difficulty in reading, I was amazed by the number of letters from readers and even doctors who differed with me about its exact meaning. I was also impressed by the fact that the real purpose of the column was lost or overlooked by those who were more interested in a technical definition than they were in alerting parents to the visual problems of their children.

That which stands out is the fact that hundreds of thousands of children with reading difficulties were classed as poor students and without muscular coordination because of unsuspected eye problems. Many of these children are poor performers and are placed in "slow classes" and wrongly treated as if they had actual brain damage or mental retardation. This stigma can persist and alter their entire adolescent and adult life unless the real problem is recognized, treated and cured.

Emotional disturbances and unusual behavior patterns in children have been traced to wrongly diagnosed, neglected and even unsuspected eye problems. Barbara Newman, a psychologist in New York City, wrote in a personal communication to me that "the complicated reading processes do not always progress in all children at the same rate of speed. There are a variety of reasons why this occurs. All of them should be tracked down and pursued relentlessly if children are to be given their birthright to develop without any shame or stigma."

A visual disturbance must be suspected in all instances of reading or study difficulty. A finely detailed examination by an eye specialist can rule out physical problems. If found these must be corrected. Psychological testing may offer a lead to the nature of the reading difficulty and personality problems.

There is now a speciality that devotes itself to the greater understanding of the nature of reading difficulty. Many universities and medical schools have departments with the most ingenious instruments to target the cause and remedy it. Unfortunately many specialists in the field complain that there are years of delay before the child is brought to them for

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Among the likely departures from Washington along with the Democratic administration is an economic idea, the belief that the economy can be fine tuned.

This is not to say that the economy never can be made to do the bidding of the monetary and fiscal masters, which are the Federal Reserve Board and those who control government spending and taxes.

But at the present time the attempt to give precise orders has failed. The economy has been disobedient, despite the theory that it can be regulated, manipulated, forced to respond in precisely predictable ways to government spending and taxes, and to the amount of money permitted to flow to business and consumers.

Fine tuning was a concept of the new Economists, the very people who put through the stunningly successful tax cut of 1964 that spurred the economy to its greatest heights ever.

This was a huge triumph. By lowering income taxes, the economy was so encouraged to expand that the federal government, although taking less from everyone, ended up with more revenue than it had been able to earn previously.

This maneuver showed how much government and its economists, under certain circumstances, can control the economy. It indicated that the refinements were on the way that would eliminate depressions and inflation.

It didn't work out that way, and perhaps the most basic error of the New Economists was that it's forecasting methods were imperfect.

The year 1965 was a fateful one. A decision was made then to increase domestic and military spending without a corresponding increase in the flow of tax revenue. This was not an economic decision.

It was a contradiction also and it soon showed up in inflation. The New Economists, in theory, would have avoided inflation as dangerous to the economy.

Inflation, came however, as the New Economists fell defeated before political and other considerations.

In fact, the New Economists, the theory that sees Uncle Sam as not just the collector of revenue but the controller and manipulator of the economy as well, has not been used in three years.

When an attempt was made to put the theory back into practice earlier this year, some harmony but much discordance resulted. The fine tuners still were off their mark. Forecasting remained imperfect.

Instead of slowing under the weight of the surtax, economic expansion continued at an inflationary pace. Government spending was checked, it is true, but the consumer and business went on a spree.

Such extravagance was not foreseen. And last week fine tuning continued to produce sour notes.

Inflation persisted, and business spending plans for new plants and equipment were found to be much higher than expected, a full nine per cent over the 1968 rate. And interest rates, which had been expected to come down, were rising instead.

Perhaps the close of a chapter was the appointment of Dr. Paul McCracken as President-elect Richard M. Nixon's chief economic adviser. McCracken, a traditionalist, does not put great faith in fine tuning.

Whether this is the end of a chapter only or of the entire story cannot be foreseen. Human forecasting methods are not that precise at this point. Even New Economists might admit this.

Dear Editor:

Since it is impossible to thank everyone personally, for all the cards, letters, prayers and money, we are taking this opportunity to thank you all through the newspaper.

Words can never express our thoughts for all the kindness of both young and old who responded so warmly.

May this Christmas be the happiest you have ever had, and may God bless you one and all.

Christmas; we were looking at a commercial extravaganza. Where was Christ in all that rush and show?

"Yes, Look at Christmas — how much this day should mean to every Christian. Sad to say it is often desecrated."

A small child was said to have quoted John 3:16 as follows: "For God so loved the world, that He gave His only 'forgotten' Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

"What place should we give Jesus when we plan the celebration of His birthday? How wrong I was to look for Christmas in the shops and stores of the city."

"If I would find Christmas, I must first think of the one for whom it was established. I must think of the millions who have yet to hear about Christ. Although I cannot go to foreign lands and look for Christmas, I can make a gift of money to someone who wants to go to a mission field. Because there are hungry people in my own town, I can take food to the needy and helpless. So when you get ready to look for Christmas, there are some plans we might make:

"First, enthrone Christ in your heart and think first of Him on the anniversary of His birthday. Then, plan to worship Christ just as the men from the East fell down before the child and worshipped Him."

"We must worship Christ in our homes as well as at church. Plan to have a program in your home in connection with the giving of gifts. The time would be just right for reading the Christmas story from the Bible."

"We cannot truly worship and serve God if we use His birthday as an excuse to go to excess in buying gifts."

"The old saying so many people fall back upon, 'Christmas Comes but once a year,' is no excuse for wild orgies of spending, eating and drinking. How many people use this time as a chance to 'really have a ball as they go out to party after party and 'tie one on?' Do we find Christmas in a bar with a glass in our hands? I think not."

"Look at Christmas — a family day, a happy day, a day we long have cherished. So let us see the good we can do for others as we introduce them to Jesus, the Saviour of the world, so they too may know where to really look for Christmas, and why this day of His birthday is celebrated throughout the whole Christian World. TODAY In History

Today is Tuesday, Dec. 10, the 345th day of 1968. There are 21 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1898, a treaty was signed in Paris officially ending the Spanish-American War. The Philippine Islands, Puerto Rico and Guam were ceded to the United States.

On this date: In 1817, Mississippi became the 20th state.

In 1896, the Swedish chemist, Alfred Nobel, died. The first Nobel prizes were awarded on the fifth anniversary of his death, in 1901.

In 1913, the famous Leonardo da Vinci painting, Mona Lisa, was recovered, two years after it had been stolen from the Louvre Museum in Paris.

In 1941, in the early days of the Pacific war, Japanese planes sank the British battleships Prince of Wales and Repulse in the South China Sea.

In 1955, a 72-year-old Los Angeles woman, Ethel Park Richardson, broke the record on broadcast give-aways when she won $100,000 for answering a six-part question about folk songs on NBC-TV "The Big Surprise."

In 1964, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. became the 12th American and the third Negro to win the Nobel Peace Prize.

Ten years ago — There was worldwide speculation about Soviet internal affairs after Gen. Ivan A. Serov was fired as head of the secret police in the U.S.S.R.

Five years ago: The U.S. Congress passed a $1 1/4 billion bill to aid college building programs.

'Laugh-In' vs Lucy

By BOB THOMAS

AP Television-Movie Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "It's those darned hour shows; they've been giving trouble to a lot of us half-hours," said Lucille Ball in analyzing the fortunes of the first season of her third television series.

To the outsider, "Here's Lucy" would seem to be far from being in trouble. The latest rating showed the half-hour comedy show in 15th place, a highly respectable position.

But to Lucille Ball the perfectionist, that isn't good enough. For most of the past 18 years Monday night has been Lucy's special property. Then along came a show called "Laugh-In." The Rowan and Martin madhouse precedes "Here's Lucy" by a half-hour, and therein lies the trouble, opines Miss Ball.

"People get hooked on hour shows and they just won't switch," she remarked in her executive suite during a break in rehearsals.

Concerning the "Laugh-In" competition, she remarked: "I never think about the opposition. I simply try to do the best job I can, and I think we've done quite well. We've had some bad shows, but we've managed some darned good ones, too. And I'm proud of the way the children have come through."

The children are her own: Lucie Arnaz, 17, and Desi Arnaz Jr., nearly 16. They are the co-stars of "Here's Lucy," and their mother explained how it happened:

"When Paramount bought out Desilu, they also bought the format of 'The Lucy Show.' It became theirs, completely. So I either had to negotiate with them to use the format, or I had to find a new one."

What Lucille wants to do is CBS's annual question mark. She is nearing the last of the 24 scheduled shows for this season, and soon she will make up her mind whether to try for another. The children are eager to do more, and it appears likely that "Here's Lucy" will be back next fall.

"If I do go back, I'll do some things differently," she commented. "I might film six of the 24 outside the studio on location. I don't really like to, nor do the children: we all like that instant response from the studio audience — it's like opening night every week."

"I would also give the children more to do, particularly in the musical vein. This season the writers didn't know how much Lucie and Desi could manage, and they didn't push them too hard. But the kids met every challenge and were eager for more."

Kent State Building Hit By Blaze

KENT, Ohio (AP) — Fire broke out early today atop Kent State University's recently dedi-cated $3.2 million biological sciences building.

Kent city firemen seemed to have the fire under control with-in an hour after it was reported at 1:21 a. m. They said dam-ages to the new building prob-ably would be confined to the top floor of the three-story con-crete structure.

The fire started in an air con-ditioning unit on top of the building.

The cause of the fire was not determined immediately.

Kent State campus police said no injuries were reported and that there was no danger of the fire spreading to other build-ings.

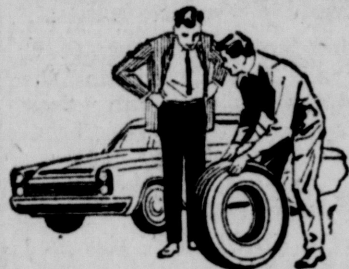

Witnesses said flames shot high enough into the air to be seen nearly a mile away.

Some Kent residents reported hearing a series of explosions. The building, Cunningham Hall, was dedicated Nov. 2 as part of Kent's proposed $25-mil-lion science complex.

Cincy Cops Seek Hike In Salaries

CINCINNATI (AP) — City of-ficials are scrutinizing a list of requests, including wage boosts and a contract protection clause brought by policemen Monday. Police asked for a nine per cent raise for patrolmen and specialists and a "fair formula" wage differential for higher ranks that would be worked out by police and city officials.

The requests for 1969 were submitted to City Manager Richard Krabach who said he would consult firemen, who pre-viously presented wage propo-sals, to see what their thinking is.

Firemen asked for $10,000-a-year top scale for firefighters and a 16 per cent differential for ranks above. Both groups must be paid the same accord-ing to the city charter.

The hikes for policemen would cost about $750,000 yearly—not including fringe benefits — and would up a patrolman's top scale pay by $27 to $8,807 and a specialist's by $785 to $9,511.

The policemen are also seek-ing a cost of living raise in July and a clause protecting them from liability for activities performed in line of duty.

Dow Jones Speaks

Dreaded Russian MVD Is Back

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent
The initials "MVD" which long inspired Russian dread are back again.

The reappearance can mean a number of things: an echo of shockwaves from what hap-pened in Czechoslovakia, a growing problem with crime and disorder, and perhaps a cautious jockeying for position among the dominant group in the Kremlin.

The letters stand for the Rus-sian words "Ministerstvo Vnu-trennikh Del," or Ministry of In-ternal Affairs. Under the noto-rious Lavrenty P. Beria, the MVD operated a vast secret po-lice net. Beria was executed 15 years ago in the power struggle which followed Stalin's death.

The MVD structure was dis-mantled, and the initials were forgotten. Security police came under organs with less power.

In mid-1966 Moscow suddenly announced formation of an all-Union "Ministry for the Protec-tion of Public Order," called MOOP for its Russian initials. It was placed under Col. Gen. Ni-kolai Shchelokov, 58, long a col-league of the present party chief, Leonid Brezhnev, as a po-litical officer in the army.

Now Pravda and Izvestia have announced that MOOP henceforth will be the "Ministry of Internal Affairs," that the militia forces under it will be beefed up and that it will carry on a determined drive to stamp out crime and "strengthen pub-lic order."

The leadership long has conceded it has a big crime problem. This embarrasses the Communist party. Doctrine in-sists that crime is only a surviv-al of capitalism and must disap-pear under "socialism."

One persistent problem has been the steady rise of theft and embezzlement of "Socialist prop-erty." Another has been hooli-ganism among youth, a term which can mean anything from drunkenness and rioting to rape and murder.

But there was more to it than that. One of the most worrisome of "crimes against the state" has involved "anti-Soviet litera-ture." Police have been frus-trated by the smuggling of con-traband manuscripts abroad.

The authorities also have been baffled by the reaction of shock and dissent among intellectuals after the occupation of Czecho-slovakia. It led to open defiance in the form of protests and dem-onstrations, for which a number of intellectuals are in prison or in exile.

These events seemed to accentuate an existing spirit of ap-athy among young people. En-rollment in the Young Commu-nist League has been dropping steadily. More painful, the So- viet press has revealed that at least 20 per cent of offenders ar- rested for crimes were mem- bers of the Young Communist League, which was designed to be an insurance against such things.

Whatever the meaning of the changeover, it probably has caused some shudders in Rus-sia, particularly among intellec- tuals who remember the old MVD. It could signify just one more evidence of a return to Stalinist methods.

Middletown Man Under Arrest

CINCINNATI (AP) — A Mid-dletown man, under two concu- rent 10-year sentences here for counterfeiting, has been arrest- ed in New Orleans for passing a bogus $20 bill and possessing $10,000 in fake money.

Kent State Building Hit By Blaze

KENT, Ohio (AP) — Fire broke out early today atop Kent State University's recently dedicated $3.2 million biological sciences building.

Kent city firemen seemed to have the fire under control within an hour after it was reported at 1:21 a. m. They said damages to the new building probably would be confined to the top floor of the three-story concrete structure.

The fire started in an air conditioning unit on top of the building.

The cause of the fire was not determined immediately.

Kent State campus police said no injuries were reported and that there was no danger of the fire spreading to other buildings.

Witnesses said flames shot high enough into the air to be seen nearly a mile away.

Some Kent residents reported hearing a series of explosions.

The building, Cunningham Hall, was dedicated Nov. 2 as part of Kent's proposed $25-million science complex.

Cincy Cops Seek Hike In Salaries

CINCINNATI (AP) — City officials are scrutinizing a list of requests, including wage boosts and a contract protection clause brought by policemen Monday. Police asked for a nine per cent raise for patrolmen and specialists and a "fair formula" wage differential for higher ranks that would be worked out by police and city officials.

The requests for 1969 were submitted to City Manager Richard Krabach who said he would consult firemen, who previously presented wage proposals, to see what their thinking is.

Firemen asked for $10,000-a-year top scale for firefighters and a 16 per cent differential for ranks above. Both groups must be paid the same according to the city charter.

The hikes for policemen would cost about $750,000 yearly—not including fringe benefits — and would up a patrolman's top scale pay by $727 to $8,807 and a specialist's by $785 to $9,511.

The policemen are also seeking a cost of living raise in July and a clause protecting them from liability for activities performed in line of duty.

Dow Jones Speaks

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Dow Jones isn't much interested in the stock market. He is the 49-year-old manager of the Danfords Corp. plant in Los Angeles and says he didn't become aware of the "other Dow Jones" until he was 14 or 15 years old.

Dreaded Russian MVD Is Back

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

The initials "MVD" which long inspired Russian dread are back again. The reappearance can mean a number of things: an echo of shockwaves from what happened in Czechoslovakia, a growing problem with crime and disorder, and perhaps a cautious jockeying for position among the dominant group in the Kremlin.

The letters stand for the Russian words "Ministerstvo Vnutrennikh Del," or Ministry of Internal Affairs. Under the notorious Lavrenty P. Beria, the MVD operated a vast secret police net. Beria was executed 15 years ago in the power struggle which followed Stalin's death.

The MVD structure was dismantled, and the initials were forgotten. Security police came under organs with less power.

In mid-1966 Moscow suddenly announced formation of an all-Union "Ministry for the Protection of Public Order," called MOOP for its Russian initials. It was placed under Col. Gen. Nikolai Shchelokov, 58, long a colleague of the present party chief, Leonid Brezhnev, as a political officer in the army.

Now Pravda and Izvestia have announced that MOOP henceforth will be the "Ministry of Internal Affairs," that the militia forces under it will be beefed up and that it will carry on a determined drive to stamp out crime and "strengthen public order."

The leadership long has conceded it has a big crime problem. This embarrasses the Communist party. Doctrine insists that crime is only a survival of capitalism and must disappear under "socialism."

One persistent problem has been the steady rise of theft and embezzlement of "Socialist property." Another has been hooliganism among youth, a term which can mean anything from drunkenness and rioting to rape and murder.

But there was more to it than that. One of the most worrisome of "crimes against the state" has involved "anti-Soviet literature." Police have been frustrated by the smuggling of contraband manuscripts abroad.

The authorities also have been baffled by the reaction of shock and dissent among intellectuals after the occupation of Czechoslovakia. It led to open defiance in the form of protests and demonstrations, for which a number of intellectuals are in prison or in exile.

These events seemed to accentuate an existing spirit of apathy among young people. Enrollment in the Young Communist League has been dropping steadily. More painful, the Soviet press has revealed that at least 20 per cent of offenders arrested for crimes were members of the Young Communist League, which was designed to be an insurance against such things.

Whatever the meaning of the changeover, it probably has caused some shudders in Russia, particularly among intellectuals who remember the old MVD. It could signify just one more evidence of a return to Stalinist methods.

Middletown Man Under Arrest

CINCINNATI (AP) — A Middletown man, under two concurrent 10-year sentences here for counterfeiting, has been arrested in New Orleans for passing a bogus $20 bill and possessing $10,000 in fake money.

Secret Service Agent James Griffith, who made the disclosure Monday, said William McNabb was sentenced here for making counterfeit money and conspiracy to violate counterfeit laws.

His sentences had been stayed to allow him time to arrange his personal affairs.

Cincinnati School Strike Threatened

CINCINNATI (AP) — A public school shutdown next fall looms as a possibility here, as the Cincinnati Board of Education voted Monday to grant employees pay hikes in January.

Faced with a possible shutdown or employee strike, the board backed Supt. Paul Miller's recommendation that $4 million in raises be given following negotiations with employee unions.

Circleville's Outstanding Young Women Selected

OUTSTANDING — Selected as Outstanding Young Women of America for 1968 are Mrs. Manuel Sanguly, on the left, and Mrs. David Schneider. They will later vie with others for the title of Outstanding Young Woman to represent Ohio.

Selected as Outstanding Young Women of America for 1968 by the Outstanding Americans Foundation are Mrs. Manuel (Mary Jo) Sanguly of Route 3, and Mrs. David (Sue) Schneider, 310 Walnut Creek Pike.

This annual program is sponsored by the nonprofit foundation dedicated to recognizing and honoring outstanding Americans. Serving on the program's board of advisors are the national presidents of major women's clubs, headed by Mrs. Dexter Otis Arnold, honorary president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

From the young women named, 50 are selected each year, one from each state, as their state's Outstanding Young Woman of the Year. Winners of these awards are selected by the Outstanding Americans Foundation.

Mrs. Sanguly and Mrs. Schneider have been honored because of their accomplishments in community service, in religious and political activities, and in professional endeavors.

Guidelines for selection include unselfish service to others, charitable activities, community service, professional excellence, business advancement and civic and professional excellence, business advancement and civic and professional recognition.

Care On The Envelopes Avoids Late-Mail Flap

By ELEANOR ROSS

When sending your Christmas cards, make special efforts to have all of your cards clearly and legibly addressed with the full name, street and number, apartment number if any, city and zip code number of each addressee.

Necessary Information

Be sure your full return address (including zip code) appears on the flap of each envelope. This is not only socially correct, but provides a means for your friends to keep their Christmas card lists up to date. Watch out for abbreviations of city and state names. A slip of the pen can make Me in the abbreviation for Maine look like Mo. for Missouri.

Send all of your cards by first class mail. Cards sent this way are entitled to forwarding service if the addressee has moved, or the cards will be returned to you if the addressee cannot be located. Also, only this type of mail allows you to include written personal messages on your cards.

Extra Hands

Probably most important of all is to mail your cards early before the post offices become overloaded. Extra help is hired during the holiday season, and while many of these people are willing, often they are inexperienced. So, early mailing and legibly written addresses are necessary.

The old idea that Christmas cards and gifts should arrive on or just before Christmas Eve is passe. It is better to make sure that your cards will arrive before the holiday. Plan to mail those destined for the most distant places before December 10th, and those for nearby and local destinations not later than a week before Christmas.

Additional aid for both yourself and the Post Office Department is to use the free slips that are provided which enable you to label your out-of-town Christmas cards "For Out-of-Town Delivery", and your local cards "For Local Delivery." These two piles of cards should have all of the addresses facing one way, with the stamps firmly affixed in the upper right hand corner.

Happy Feeling

So, now off to the post office, with the cards and that happy feeling of having completed a pleasant chore that brings a lot of pleasure to the folks on your list as well as to you, the sender.

And remember this: If your cards do get into the homes of the people you sent them to a little earlier than you think is proper, those who receive them will have that much longer to enjoy them.

East Ringgold Ladies Aid To Meet

East Ringgold Ladies Aid will meet 11:30 a.m. Thursday in the home of Mrs. Ray Badger, 381 Meadow Drive, Circleville, for a carry-in luncheon and Christmas gift exchange.

Bob Hope Sets Christmas Trip

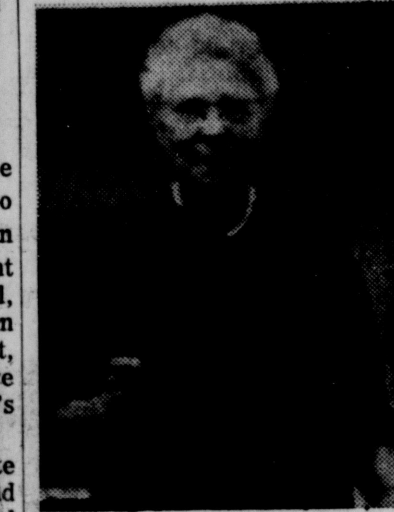

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Bob Hope leaves Saturday for Vietnam with the largest troupe in 28 years of entertaining U.S. servicemen overseas.

Hope is taking along 21 performers and the Les Brown band. The group includes actress Ann-Margret and Rosey Grier, former Los Angeles Rams football star.

Hope's itinerary includes stops in Japan, Korea, Okinawa, Guam, Thailand and Vietnam. The trip is cosponsored by the Department of Defense and the USO.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Temptation Comes Only On Sunday

DEAR ABBY: Well, now I've done it! I've fallen in love with my pastor. (You're probably thinking that if you had a nickel for every woman who thought that, you could retire.)

My question is whether to face my problem by sitting in church every Sunday with errant thoughts that belong in the bedroom, or do I ask for a transfer to a sister congregation? If the latter, what reason do I give for the transfer, as I shall surely be asked?

Human nature being what it is, I'm sure you can tell I am hoping you'll tell me not to transfer.

FEELING GUILTY

DEAR FEELING: Transfer. All the "good" derived from going to church will be negated by those "errant thoughts" which seem to preoccupy you. And if you're asked to explain your move, say it's "personal." (It is!)

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem that's been bothering me a long time. I am a 13½-year-old boy, only 4 ft. 8" tall, and am not very physically mature.

I like girls in my grade a lot, but the girls in my grade don't like me. I have tried different approaches for them to like me, but so far none has worked. The funny thing is, girls younger than me like me a lot.

My parents tell me I am very good looking and have a wonderful personality, and my mother keeps telling me not to worry—that in a few more years I will have my day in the sun.

I don't think she's right and would like to have a nonprejudiced answer.

DESPERATE IN B.H.

DEAR DESPERATE: Your mother is right. One of the signs of "maturity" is patience. Be patient, young man, and remember, a "man" is measured from his eyebrows upward.

DEAR ABBY: How does a hostess get rid of guests who have been invited for cocktails from 5 to 7, but who hang around as long as the liquor lasts? This can be a real sticky wicket when one has invited, say, 24 for cocktails and only 6 for dinner.

HOSTESS

DEAR HOSTESS: I know of no "gracious" way to tell a guest that his welcome has expired. His hollow leg rivals his hollow head, so either hand him his hat, slip him a "Mickey" or ask him to stay for dinner. And if he's a real bore, if you invite him for cocktails again, shame on you.

DEAR ABBY: That woman who couldn't stand the sight of grease-stained hands and "dirty" fingernails on the young mechanic her daughter was dating, has a lot to learn. Too bad she couldn't have had a talk with the wonderful wives of: H. Ford, E. Whitney, H. Westinghouse, W. Chrysler, W. Wright, O. Wright, C. Lindbergh and a few others who had to get their hands dirty.

Lincoln Books Available At Public Library

The library has received two books from The John C. Lincoln family which should prove of interest to many people in Circleville.

"The American Century of John C. Lincoln" by Raymond Moley presents an appraisal of the life and contributions of John Lincoln in the field of electrical engineering and in social, economical and religious areas.

Joseph Colville Lincoln, a former vice president of the Soaring Society of America, recounts in his book "Soaring for Diamonds", his first airship ride in a sailplane through national contest soaring and a tense flight across the Continental Divide, to the final achievement of the Diamond C — highest soaring emblem in the world.

Soaring for Diamonds is illustrated with photographs and includes a glossary of soaring terms and soaring records.

Mr. Joseph Lincoln lives in Scottsdale, Arizona.

Both of these books may be borrowed at the Pickaway County District Public Library.

Business Briefs

A 25 cent per share cash dividend has been declared by Big Bear Stores Company Board of Directors. It will be paid Jan. 4, 1969 to stockholders of record at the close of business Dec. 20, 1968.

Wayne E. Brown, president, said sales were running ahead of last year and that earnings after giving effect to the new 10 per cent surtax on federal income taxes were approximately the same.

At a special meeting of stockholders held on Dec. 7, 1968, an amendment to the articles of incorporation giving Class A shareholders voting rights was approved. The company now plans to make application for listing on the American Stock Exchange immediately.

Expensive Losses

NEW YORK (AP) — An American Express Co. report says seven million Americans lost $2 billion in cash through fire, theft or loss over a 12-month period. It said carelessness was the primary cause.

PARIS (AP) — Negotiators are heading into the expanded conference on Vietnam with avowed goals that seem unbridgeable.

What the diplomats are willing to settle for, to bring about a peace settlement, will be seen after they get down to serious and probably secret bargaining. Following in brief are the major announced aims of the four participants in the coming talks:

UNITED STATES

"To preserve the right of the South Vietnamese people to determine their own future without outside interference or coercion."

Withdrawal of U.S. and other allied contributing forces from South Vietnam "as the other side withdraws its forces to the North, stops infiltration and the level of violence subsides."

A settlement basically in line with the 1954 Geneva accords for peace and independence in Indo-China, with restoration of the demilitarized zone between North and South Vietnam under international controls pending reunification of the country and stronger international supervision of a settlement than the Geneva agreements provided.

A government of South Vietnam based on the principle of self-determination with peaceful participation open to all on the basis of one-man, one-vote.

Reunification of Vietnam "to be settled peacefully by the people in North Vietnam and the people in South Vietnam."

Observance of the 1962 Geneva agreement for Laos' independence and neutrality. Cooperative economic development of Southeast Asia with U.S. aid.

NORTH VIETNAM

"Recognition of the basic national rights of the Vietnamese people and with a clear distinction between the aggressor and the victim of aggression."

In accord with the Geneva agreements, recognition of the Vietnamese people's basic sovereignty, unity and territorial integrity.

Withdrawal from South Vietnam of all U.S. troops and weapons; dismantling of all U.S. bases there; cancellation of America's "military alliance" with South Vietnam.

Strict respect for the DMZ and other military provisions of the Geneva agreements pending reunification of North and South.

"The internal affairs of South Vietnam must be settled by the South Vietnamese people themselves, in accordance with the program of the South Vietnam National Liberation Front without any foreign interference."

Peaceful reunification of Vietnam to be settled by the people in both North and South, without any foreign interference.

SOUTH VIETNAM

"An end to the aggression in South Vietnam" and "a genuine, lasting and guaranteed peace."

Withdrawal of all North Vietnamese forces.

De-escalation of the war by Hanoi after the talks begin.

Solution of the Viet Cong-NLF problem by the Saigon government as an internal affair, with the NLF to "give up its weapons, its armed aggression and communism." One-man, one-vote principle applies "only to those who return from the other side."

Peaceful reunification of Vietnam through direct negotiation between Saigon and Hanoi, with free elections in the South looking toward a unified government, provided free elections are held in the North too.

NATIONAL LIBERATION FRONT

"Abolish the disguised colonial regime established by the U.S. imperialists in South Vietnam."

Hold free general elections with universal suffrage and secret ballot to elect a National Assembly which will draw up a new constitution.

"Set up a democratic national union government including the most representative persons among the various social strata, nationalities, religious communities, patriotic and democratic parties, the patriotic personalities, and forces which have contributed to the cause of national liberation."

Reunification of Vietnam by negotiation between North and South.

A Vietnamese foreign policy based on "peace and neutrality."

AGREEMENT SIGNED — Officials of Chung Sung Fat and Oil Company and John W. Eshelman and Sons sign a licensing agreement to manufacture and market Red Rose animal feeds in South Korea. Shown, left to right, are Howard Eshelman Jr., vice president of John W. Eshelman and Sons; Chang Hong Kang, president of Chang Sung Fat and Oil Company; and Hector Gonzales, export manager of the U. S. firm. Dr. H. K. Lee of Korea, who interpreted the meeting, is not shown.

Meany Says Government Must Provide Jobs For All

WASHINGTON (AP) — AFL-CIO President George Meany says those who advocate "a little unemployment—controlled unemployment" are talking nonsense.

"Without full employment how do we ever solve the just demands of our minorities who today seek vainly for jobs?" Meany asked in a statement.

The head of the 13.6-million member labor federation answered his own question by saying the government must expand the economy and provide jobs for all who are unable to get them.

Meany's statement was billed as being in connection with the 20th anniversary of the United Nations' Universal Declaration of Human Rights. But it contained a message for President-elect Richard M. Nixon and his advisers although Meany did not mention names.

The labor leader said at one point that his federation was committed to a policy of full employment—"undeterred by those who fear inflation above everything else."

There are some, he said, "who advocate a little unemployment—controlled unemployment—as the answer to inflation. This is nonsense."

The comments appeared to be directed at two of Nixon's key economic advisers, Paul W. McCracken, named to head the Council of Economic Advisers, and Herbert Stein, head of the Nixon task force on fiscal policy.

Receives Grant

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Cincinnati Business Assistance Guarantee Fund was named Monday to receive a $123,000 grant from the Economic Development Administration to finance technical assistance to businessmen in ghetto areas.

Republicans Hold Victory Dinner Here

Approximately 250 Republicans met at the Grange and 4-H Building Friday evening to celebrate with a Victory Dinner, served by the Pomona Grange.

Invocation was given by Dr. W. Lloyd Sproule.

Guy O. Sark, chairman of the Republican Executive Committee, was in charge of the program. He thanked all members of the central and executive committees, the finance committee and all other people throughout the county who helped in any way in the 1968 campaign.

Speaker of the evening was Chalmers P. Wylie, Congressman for the 15th District. He thanked all for support given him at the recent election and related some amusing events that had happened along the campaign trail. He urged all citizens receiving his questionnaire to answer and return them, stating that this helps many times to get legislation passed that speaks for the majority of the people.

State Senator Harry Armstrong, 17th District and Mrs. Armstrong and Scott Belt, an auditor from the Highway Division, along with Judge William Ammer were present as special guests.

The Triple Trio from Circleville High School provided the entertainment.

MOST PEOPLE WHO LONG FOR SUMMER HAVE SHORT MEMORIES

Ah, summer! Picnics, golf and swimming. Trees and flowers and birds and sunshine.

Phooie. You're having your annual attack of the Winter Wishfuls.

All through the winter you wished for summer, then suddenly it arrived. Good Old Summertime. Do you remember how it really was. Hot and humid. Sticky and stuffy. Your house was somewhat less comfortable than a Turkish bath. You dragged out a flock of fans to push the hot air around; maybe you even got desperate and tried one of those noisy, drafty window units. And while you were trying to fall asleep in that oven of a bedroom, you were wishing it was winter.

In just a few months, you have all that to go through again. Unless, of course, you order your whole-house Gas air conditioning system now.

Yes, now. Now—before that first steaming night sneaks up on you—is the time to let your Gas Company add whole-house Gas air conditioning to your present Gas furnace. There's no quieter, cleaner, more economical-to-run, longer-lived air conditioning system anywhere.

You get a husky three-ton Gas air conditioning system—including normal installation—for as little as $14.00 a month. There's no down payment.

The no-obligation coupon brings all the facts. Mail it today — and look forward to a comfortable summer you can really enjoy.

NEW YORK (AP) — It is hard to complain about a lack of diversity in television programming when, within an hour, the viewer can watch the Supremes tossing out "Mrs. Robinson" in close harmony and move without pause to a dramatic reconstruction of the battle of Gettysburg by merely turning a dial.

So it was, with two special programs Monday night, one on NBC and the other on ABC.

The Supremes, led by Diana Ross and aided by another excellent singing group, the all-male Temptations, took over the NBC hour. The show was called "TCB," which stands for "Taking Care of Business," presumably given to the show for policy reasons since it really starred the handsome Miss Ross, backed up by the other two members of her group and the male quintet.

The show was taped on what looked like an outside coffee table with a clear plastic top that served as their stage, and an enthusiastic audience of young people surrounded them. There was almost no dialogue or conversation—just singing and lots and lots of costume changes.

The mood ranged from flip to romantic and even when the song was old, the sound was new and compelling. The color of the backgrounds and of the costumes were visual delights, and so was the music.

"The Road to Gettysburg" which followed was a sort of cram course on the cause and early progress of the war between the states from 1860 to 1863 when the North-South encounter on the fields of Gettysburg left 51,000 casualties.

There seemed no particular reason for the program—no meaningful anniversary—but John Secondari, the producer, is a civil war student. However, in that conflict of a century ago, there was a reminder that even wars fought with what now seem to be primitive weapons resulted in great carnage, suffering, loss of life and destruction of property.

The location shots at Gettysburg were magnificently photographed and the technique of reconstructing battle scenes by men in silhouette and by a shot of a hat lying in the mud or a musket lying in the grass was effectively employed.

The producer himself handled the narration but used two actors, Kevin McCarthy and David Carradine, to read excerpts from diaries and letters of Northern and Southern soldiers who participated in the battle. Portions of the narration, too, were illustrated by old battlefield photographs and paintings.

At the conclusion, Secondari read Lincoln's Gettysburg Address as the camera panned the military graveyard—and after the briefing given the TV audience, the familiar words assumed new and deeper meaning.

NBC and CBS continue to run a tight ratings race. In the most recent Nielsen report, for the week of Nov. 25 through Dec. 1, NBC had an average of 20.6, and CBS, 20.5. ABC trailed with 14.8. "Laugh-in" on NBC continued to top the popularity list with "Bonanza" also on NBC, in second place.

Other programs in the top 10 were CBS' "Ann Margaret Show," "Miss Teenage America," "Paseant" and "Gomer Pyle." NBC's "Bob Hope Special," CBS' "Frank Sinatra Special" and NBC's "Dean Martin Show."

Recommended tonight: "A Guide to the Swinging Bachelor" ABC, 8-30-9-30 EST, comedy-variety with Joe Bishon, Noel Harrison and Dean Jones; "60 Minutes," CBS 10-11, news show with a demonstration of illegal football tactics and a report on prison life.

Santa and the Hippies

By LUCRECE BEALE

Synopsis: When Santa leaves Santa Land, a dwarf named Heskiah turns all the elves into spinning tops. Then he sets to work in Santa's workshop to build a machine to take the place of people.

CHAPTER 8
SANTA AND THE HIPPIES

WHILE all these terrible things were happening in Santa

Pickaway Grange

STAR

Star Grange met in regular session Tuesday evening in the Monroe School auditorium with Harold Furniss, master pro tem, presiding over the business session.

The secretary, Helen Hammel read a "thank you" note from Mrs. Joan Reid for flowers and cards she received while in Mt. Carmel Hospital. An appeal for aid was answered and contributions were made to the Christmas Seal Fund and also to the Stephen Knece Fund. The home economics chairman, Mrs. Francis Furniss, announced that five aprons had been taken to the Red Cross for Veterans Hospital, Chillicothe.

Plans were completed for the annual Christmas party and carry-in supper which will be held on Dec. 10 at 7 p.m. with a 50 cent gift exchange.

The program under the direction of the lecturer, Mrs. Ernestine Dudleson, was in keeping with the Thanksgiving season. It opened with group singing, "Harvest Song", followed by the thought for the day by the chaplain, Miss Florence Long.

A tableau on Thanksgiving was presented with the following persons taking part, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Dennis, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Porter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Morgan, Mrs. Paul Dawson, Mrs. Francis Furniss, Miss Florence Long, Mrs. Loring Stoer, Miss Laura Long, Harold Furniss and Mrs. Dudleson.

Harold Furniss gave a very interesting talk on "What Farmers Have To Be Thankful For" and Jimmy Beathard had a very interesting paper on "Why the Youth of Today Should Be Thankful." The group sang "Bless This House" and a quiz on "What Do You Know About Thanksgiving?" was held with Mrs. Herman Porter receiving the prize for the most correct answers. The program closed with Mrs. Helen Hammel reading "The First Thanksgiving." Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Loring Stoer and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Morgan.

"Now it is time for me to get back to Santa Land," Land, Santa and Ding Dong arrived in faraway Hippieville.

A cheer, "You captured him!" cried the red-headed hippie to Ding Dong. "How did you do it?"

"I said there was a boy in a well who couldn't get out, said Ding Dong, not looking at Santa. "But —"

"Groovy!" yelled the hippies. "Where is the boy?" asked Santa. "We better hurry and get him out."

"There isn't any such —" Ding Dong began but the hippies shouted, "The well! Take him to the well!"

They led Santa behind one of the hippie houses and there sure enough was an old empty well. Santa peered into the hole. "Why, there's no one in it!" he said.

"Now there is!" cried the hippies. They gave Santa a push and tumbled him into the well.

"He's our prisoner!" gloated the redhead hippie. "Children everywhere are free. They can do as they please and not have to worry about being good anymore."

Ding Dong shouted, "But what about Christmas?"

"Nobody has to be good for Christmas anymore," bragged the redhead.

"But without Santa Claus there won't even be any Christmas!" protested Ding Dong.

"True," said someone in surprise. "I hadn't thought of that."

With a grunt and a groan Santa Claus suddenly popped out of the well — a very easy matter for one who had been popping in and out of chimneys all his life.

He shook his head sadly and said to Ding Dong, "I'm surprised you'd trick me like that."

"I did it so they would see what you're really like," mumbled Ding Dong, red-faced. "Actually, he looks like a hippie!" exclaimed someone.

"I dig those whiskers," said another hippie.

"I dig that groovy red suit," said another.

"So what's all the fuss?" asked Santa.

"Well," said the redhead with embarrassment, "we don't like to comb our hair or eat with forks instead of fingers or clean our rooms and all like that."

"Fine," said Santa. "But why knock the kids who do?"

"You mean you don't care about being good?"

"There are lots of ways of being good," said Santa. "I expect that, in their own way, hippies are very, very good."

"Oh, I dig this Santa Claus!" exclaimed the redhead.

"And I dig hippies," said Santa gravely. "But now you've had your fun. It's time for me to get back to Santa Land to fill my Christmas orders."

"Suppose," said a hippie, "we sent you a letter. Would you fill our order?"

"Try it and see," said Santa, with a smile.

Then he turned to leave, but as he was about to climb in his little plane Edgar the elf swooped down on the back of a red-eyed goose.

"Santa! Santa!" gasped Edgar. "A terrible thing has happened!"

"What on earth can it be?" cried Santa in alarm.

"Santa Land is no more!" moaned Edgar. Tears rolled down his cheeks and he wrung his hands in despair.

Santa and the Hippies

By LUCRECE BEALE

Synopsis: When Santa leaves Santa Land, a dwarf named Heskiah turns all the elves into spinning tops. Then he sets to work in Santa's workshop to build a machine to take the place of people.

CHAPTER 8
SANTA AND THE HIPPIES
WHILE all these terrible things were happening in Santa

Pickaway Grange

STAR

Star Grange met in regular session Tuesday evening in the Monroe School auditorium with Harold Furniss, master pro tem, presiding over the business session.

The secretary, Helen Hammel read a "thank you" note from Mrs. Joan Reid for flowers and cards she received while in Mt. Carmel Hospital. An appeal for aid was answered and contributions were made to the Christmas Seal Fund and also to the Stephen Knece Fund. The home economics chairman, Mrs. Francis Furniss, announced that five aprons had been taken to the Red Cross for Veterans Hospital, Chillicothe.

Plans were completed for the annual Christmas party and carry-in supper which will be held on Dec. 10 at 7 p.m. with a 50 cent gift exchange.

The program under the direction of the lecturer, Mrs. Ernestine Dudeson, was in keeping with the Thanksgiving season. It opened with group singing, "Harvest Song", followed by the thought for the day by the chaplain, Miss Florence Long.

A tableau on Thanksgiving was presented with the following persons taking part, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Dennis, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Porter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Morgan, Mrs. Paul Dawson, Mrs. Francis Furniss, Miss Florence Long, Mrs. Loring Storer, Miss Laura Long, Harold Furniss and Mrs. Dudeson.

Harold Furniss gave a very interesting talk on "What Farmers Have To Be Thankful For" and Jimmy Beathard had a very interesting paper on "Why the Youth of Today Should Be Thankful." The group sang "Bless This House" and a quiz on "What Do You Know About Thanksgiving?" was held with Mrs. Herman Porter receiving the prize for the most correct answers. The program closed with Mrs. Helen Hammel reading "The First Thanksgiving." Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Loring Storer and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Morgan.

"Now it is time for me to get back to Santa Land."

Land, Santa and Ding Dong arrived in faraway Hippieville.

A cheer, "You captured him!" cried the red-headed hippie to Ding Dong. "How did you do it?"

"I said there was a boy in a well who couldn't get out, said Ding Dong, not looking at Santa. "But —"

No. 2 North Carolina Whips Vanderbilt

By MIKE BRYSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
Powerful North Carolina kept rolling along, but Duke wasted little time in failing to uphold a loftier reputation in college basketball warfare Monday night.
The Tar Heels, ranked No. 2 behind idle UCLA in today's Associated Press poll, trailed by a point at halftime before rallying to whip Vanderbilt 100-78 at Charlotte.
But Duke, elevated from 16th to ninth in the rankings this week, was upset on its own court by Michigan, 90-80.
Vanderbilt fired away at a 54.8 per cent clip to take a 40-39 halftime edge. But 9-foot-8 Bill Bunting fired in nine points in a spree that lifted North Carolina into control at 63-54 midway through the final half.
Bunting finished with a career high 22 points to share honors with teammate Dick Grubar as the Tar Heels won their fourth straight. Vanderbilt, ranked No. 12 a week ago, suffered its second loss in three games.
Michigan's Rudy Tomjanovich tapped in a bevy of offensive re-

Stevens Wins College Grid Championships

NEW YORK (AP) — Half-back Howard Stevens of Randolph-Macon has captured the national College Division rushing and scoring championships, climaxing one of the finest freshman seasons on record.
Stevens, a 5-foot-7, 165-pound blockbuster, gained 404 yards and scored five touchdowns in his last two games, finishing the season with 1,468 rushing yards and 142 points, according to final figures released today by National Collegiate Sports Services.
Freshmen had won individual titles only four times before Stevens' feat.
Another freshman, Warner Robertson of Maryland State, won the punting championship with a 44.2-yards average per kick. He got off punts of 84 and 74 yards in his final game to nail the college division crown.
Sophomore Jim Lindsey of Abilene Christian led the nation in passing, completing 204 of 396 attempts in 10 games for 2,717 yards and 18 touchdowns. The 5-foot-11 175-pound quarterback finished No. 2 in total offense to Louisiana Tech's Terry Bradshaw, a junior.
Bradshaw picked up 1,089 rushing-passing yards in his last three starts for a total of 2,987. Lindsey wound up with 2,740.
Drake's Dick Hewins was the only senior to make the list of individual champions, taking pass-receiving honors with a record 95 catches, good for 1,316 yards and 13 touchdowns. The old mark of 92 receptions was set by Manley Sarnowsky, also of Drake, in 1966.
Bruce Cerone of Emporia State, runnerup to Hewins with 91 grabs, set an all-time record of 1,479 receiving yards and scored 15 touchdowns, to equal the career record of 36 touchdown catches set by Willie Richardson of Jackson State from 1959 to 1962.

Viking Frosh Top Logan Elm

The Teays Valley freshman basketball team handed the Logan Elm frosh a 43-24 defeat on the Braves' floor Monday.
Charles Worthington paced the winners with a 21 point effort while Jack Brinker contributed 11 to the Viking attack.
For Logan Elm, Brad Barr and Jeff Young score six points each. Logan Elm is now 0-2 for the season.

bounds in picking up 29 points in firing the upset of Duke—the Blue Devils first loss in four games.
Michigan led 41-36 at the half, then outscored Duke 11-1 midway through the second half to put it out of doubt.
Meanwhile, two other teams in the Top 20—Kansas and LaSalle—scored easy victories, while No. 15 Western Kentucky had to struggle to stop St. Francis, Pa., 70-68.
No. 11 Kansas rolled past Xavier of Ohio 79-56 and No. 20 LaSalle put down Rider 77-59.
Kansas befuddled Xavier with an aggressive zone defense while racing to a 36-24 halftime lead. The Jayhawks then ripped in seven straight points after intermission and it was no contest after that. Phil Harmon led a balanced attack with 16 points.
Jim McDaniels, Western Kentucky's 7-foot center, polished off a 23-point performance with a three-point play with 33 seconds left, enabling Western to win its fifth straight.
LaSalle's Larry Cannon drilled in 13 of his 22 points in the final nine minutes to turn off a Rider rally and give the Explorers their second straight.
Unbeaten Georgia permitted Alabama only one point in the final 1½ minutes to pull off an 80-73 Southeastern Conference victory.
Gene Williams scored six of his 20 points, blocked three shots and stole the ball once in the overtime session to help Kansas State sidetrack Indiana 87-83.

Johnny Arthur flipped in 31 points to lead Tulane to a 108-88 conquest of previously unbeaten Rice.
In other games, Illinois stopped North Dakota 83-51, Northwestern defeated Colorado 83-66, Drake beat Marquette 68-63, Oklahoma ousted Texas Tech 83-74, Oklahoma State topped South Dakota State 72-67, Arkansas edged Centenary 64-61 in overtime.
Also Samford beat Mississippi State 68-59, Lamar Tech stopped Texas A&M 98-87, Air Force checked Arkansas State 76-58, Iowa State tromped San Fernando State 97-61 and Texas-El Paso sidetracked Southern Colorado State 94-81.

Rozelle Suspends 6 Game Officials For Downs Error

NEW YORK (AP) — Pete Rozelle, commissioner of pro football, announced Monday the suspension of the six game officials whose mistake cost Los Angeles a down in the Rams' crucial 17-16 National Football League loss to Chicago Sunday.
Norm Schachter, umpire Joe Connell, head linesman Burl Toler, line judge Jack Fette, back judge Adrian Burk and field judge George Ellis.
Rozelle issued the following statement:
"National Football League game officials erred in not permitting Los Angeles one more down near the end of the Rams' game with the Chicago Bears Sunday.
"A penalty against Los Angeles on the first down of its final series nullified an incomplete pass play. Following three additional incomplete passes by Los Angeles, the ball was turned over to Chicago, thus depriving Los Angeles of a fourth down play to which it was entitled.

"Los Angeles would have started the fourth down from its own 47-yard line with five seconds to play and 31 yards needed for a first down.
"All six game officials are equally responsible for keeping track of the downs.
"The crew which officiated the Los Angeles-Chicago game is considered among the most competent in pro football. However, because all six must bear responsibility for the error the entire crew will receive no further assignments for the remainder of the 1968 NFL season, including post-season games."

Sonny Liston Meets Amos Lincoln
BALTIMORE (AP) — Sonny Liston, hungering to regain the heavyweight title he lost in 1964, meets Amos "Big Train" Lincoln in a scheduled 10-round bout in the Civic Center tonight.
The winner will be angling for a fight with the winner of a 15-round heavyweight bout in Philadelphia later tonight when Joe Frazier, defending his five-state crown, meets Argentine contender Oscar Bonavena.

McLain's It In Pitching For The AL

BOSTON (AP) — The American League made it official today—Denny McLain of the Detroit Tigers was THE pitcher of 1968.
President Joe Cronin announced official figures confirming that McLain became the league's first 30-game winner in 37 years as he fashioned a 31-6 record in pitching the T-son, including post-season games.
The 24-year-old right-hander also led the AL in six other categories—most starts (41), most complete games (28) best percentage (.838), most innings pitched (336), most batters faced (1,206) and most home runs surrendered (31).
In becoming the first 30-game winner since Lefty Grove won 31 for the Philadelphia Athletics in 1931, McLain fashioned a 1.96 earned run average, fourth best in the league. He struck out 280 while walking only 63.
Cleveland right-hander Luis Tiant, who fired nine shutouts, led the league in earned run average with a brilliant 1.60—the lowest since Walter Johnson's 1.49 in 1919. Tiant had a 21-9 record.
Southpaw Sam McDowell of the Indians was runnerup with a 1.81 ERA. McDowell topped AL pitchers with 283 strikeouts, the third time in four seasons he has finished first in total whiffs. He also was high with 110 bases on balls.
Trailing Tiant and McDowell in ERA were Dave McNally of Baltimore with 1.95, McLain and Tommy John of Chicago. Chicago's Joe Horlen, the 1967 leader, finished eighth with 2.37, the fifth straight year he has finished among the top 15.

Freshmen had won individual titles only four times before Stevens' feat.
Another freshman, Warner Robertson of Maryland State, won the punting championship with a 44.2-yards average per kick. He got off punts of 84 and 74 yards in his final game to nail the college division crown.
Sophomore Jim Lindsey of Abilene Christian led the nation in passing, completing 204 of 396 attempts in 10 games for 2,717 yards and 18 touchdowns. The 5-foot-11 175-pound quarterback finished No. 2 in total offense to Louisiana Tech's Terry Bradshaw, a junior.
Bradshaw picked up 1,069 rushing-passing yards in his last three starts for a total of 2,987. Lindsey wound up with 2,740.
Drake's Dick Hewins was the only senior to make the list of individual champions, taking pass-receiving honors with a record 95 catches, good for 1,316 yards and 13 touchdowns. The old mark of 92 receptions was set by Manley Sarnowsky, also of Drake, in 1966.
Bruce Cerone of Emporia State, runnerup to Hewins with 91 grabs, set an all-time record of 1,479 receiving yards and scored 15 touchdowns, to equal the career record of 36 touchdown catches set by Willie Richardson of Jackson State from 1959 to 1962.

Viking Frosh Top Logan Elm

The Teays Valley freshman basketball team handed the Logan Elm frosh a 43-24 defeat on the Braves' floor Monday.
Charles Worthington paced the winners with a 21 point effort while Jack Brinker contributed 11 to the Viking attack.
For Logan Elm, Brad Barr and Jeff Young score six points each. Logan Elm is now 0-2 for the season.

bounds in picking up 29 points in firing the upset of Duke—the Blue Devils first loss in four games.
Michigan led 41-36 at the half, then outscored Duke 11-1 midway through the second half to put it out of doubt.
Meanwhile, two other teams in the Top 20—Kansas and LaSalle—scored easy victories, while No. 15 Western Kentucky had to struggle to stop St. Francis, Pa., 70-68.
No. 11 Kansas rolled past Xavier of Ohio 79-56 and No. 20 LaSalle put down Rider 77-59.
Kansas befuddled Xavier with an aggressive zone defense while racing to a 35-24 halftime lead. The Jayhawks then ripped in seven straight points after intermission and it was no contest after that. Phil Harmon led a balanced attack with 16 points.
Jim McDaniels, Western Kentucky's 7-foot center, polished off a 23-point performance with a three-point play with 33 seconds left, enabling Western to win its fifth straight.
LaSalle's Larry Cannon drilled in 13 of his 22 points in the final nine minutes to turn off a Rider rally and give the Explorers their second straight.
Unbeaten Georgia permitted Alabama only one point in the final 1½ minutes to pull off an 80-73 Southeastern Conference victory.
Gene Williams scored six of his 20 points, blocked three shots and stole the ball once in the overtime session to help Kansas State sidetrack Indiana 87-83.

Johnny Arthur flipped in 31 points to lead Tulane to a 108-88 conquest of previously unbeaten Rice.

In other games, Illinois stopped North Dakota 83-51, Northwestern defeated Colorado 83-66, Drake beat Marquette 68-63, Oklahoma ousted Texas Tech 83-74, Oklahoma State topped South Dakota State 72-67, Arkansas edged Centenary 64-61 in overtime.
Also Samford beat Mississippi State 68-59, Lamar Tech stopped Texas A&M 98-87, Air Force checked Arkansas State 76-58, Iowa State tromped San Fernando State 97-61 and Texas-El Paso sidetracked Southern Colorado State 94-81.

President Joe Cronin announced official figures confirming that McLain became the league's first 30-game winner in 37 years as he fashioned a 31-6 record in pitching the Tigers to the pennant.
The 24-year-old right-hander also led the AL in six other categories—most starts (41), most complete games (28) best percentage (.838), most innings pitched (336), most batters faced (1,206) and most home runs surrendered (31).
In becoming the first 30-game winner since Lefty Grove won 31 for the Philadelphia Athletics in 1931, McLain fashioned a 1.96 earned run average, fourth best in the league. He struck out 280 while walking only 63.
Cleveland right-hander Luis Tiant, who fired nine shutouts, led the league in earned run average with a brilliant 1.60—the lowest since Walter Johnson's 1.49 in 1919. Tiant had a 21-9 record.
Southpaw Sam McDowell of the Indians was runnerup with a 1.81 ERA. McDowell topped AL pitchers with 283 strikeouts, the third time in four seasons he has finished first in total whiffs. He also was high with 110 bases on balls.
Trailing Tiant and McDowell in ERA were Dave McNally of Baltimore with 1.95, McLain and Tommy John of Chicago. Chicago's Joe Horlen, the 1967 leader, finished eighth with 2.37, the fifth straight year he has finished among the top 15.

Rozelle Suspends 6 Game Officials For Downs Error
NEW YORK (AP) — Pete Rozelle, commissioner of pro football, announced Monday the suspension of the six game officials whose mistake cost Los Angeles a down in the Rams' crucial 17-16 National Football League loss to Chicago Sunday.
Norm Schachter, umpire Joe Connell, head linesman Burl Toler, line judge Jack Fette, back judge Adrian Burk and field judge George Ellis.
Rozelle issued the following statement:
"National Football League game officials erred in not permitting Los Angeles one more down near the end of the Rams' game with the Chicago Bears Sunday.
"A penalty against Los Angeles on the first down of its final series nullified an incomplete pass play. Following three additional incomplete passes by Los Angeles, the ball was turned over to Chicago, thus depriving Los Angeles of a fourth down play to which it was entitled."

Kramer Tells Of Green Bay Loss

The following story by Green Bay guard Jerry Kramer, written for The Associated Press, describes the day the clock ran out on the former National Football League champions.

By JERRY KRAMER
GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Before the game with the Baltimore Colts, we got together in the locker room, the way we always do, just the players, just by ourselves, and Bob Skoronski, the offensive captain, spoke first. "We've dedicated games to the fans and to the coaches and to individual players," Ski said, "but let's play this game for the guys who've made this team it's been. A lot of us won't be here next year. A lot of us are playing our last game at Lambeau Field..."

Bob couldn't say any more. He was more emotional than I'd ever seen him. He was about ready to cry. I started thinking about the guys who wouldn't be here next year. Henry Jordan, Ski, Willie Davis, maybe Bart Starr, maybe Forrest Gregg, maybe me. I couldn't help remembering what my son, Danny, said to me the other day. He's only 4 years old, and he was sitting at the kitchen table, and he looked up at me, and he said, "Dad, we're just getting too old." Listening to Ski, listening to Willie Davis, I get very high emotionally. We all got high emotionally. As a team, I guess, we've played with a lack of emotion all year, but that day we were just filled with emotion. Maybe we were too high. We went out and we made mistakes—fumbles, interceptions, missed assignments—the kind of mistakes that are generally caused by extra effort, by too much emotion, not by any lack of effort.

I felt we could win the game. I felt it all the way. The game typified the whole season. It was a big disappointment.

There wasn't a game all year that I didn't think we could win, and against the Colts at the start of the fourth quarter, when Lionel Aldridge came up with that Baltimore fumble for us, I was positive we were going to win. There wasn't any question in my mind. I knew we were going to take ball and go in and score and then we'd score and we'd win the game.

I was wrong. I didn't believe it until I looked up and saw only 20 seconds left on the clock and we were losing 16-3, and I knew it was all over. I knew that our string of three straight NFL championships had ended, knew that we didn't have a chance any more.

We've always felt that we never lost a game, that every game we played, we won. We knew that sometimes the clock ran out on us while the others team still had more points, but we knew that if we'd kept playing, we would have won. But this was the day the clock ran out on us.

Maybe little Danny knew something. When he made that remark about us being too old, he cut me. It was a pretty intelligent thing for a 4-year-old to say, but it was like getting hit by a spear. I went to my older boy, Tony, and I said: "Tony, have you been telling Danny we're too old? Have you been telling him that?"

Tony looked at me. "If we're not getting too old," he said, "what's wrong then?" I didn't have an answer.

Flyers Breeze By Portland; Miami's Redskins On Deck

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Dayton Flyers have posted their 18th straight basketball victory, but to get No. 19 they'll have to beat Miami's Redskins, a team that ambushed them early last season.

The latest Dayton win was a 95-66 romp Monday night over winless Portland. Dan Sadler's 18 points and Jim Gottschall's 17 led the Flyers, who shot 65 per cent from the field in the first half.

Miami, which gave Purdue a scare last Saturday, will entertain Dayton Wednesday night in its new Millett Assembly Hall. The Redskins shocked the Flyers 64-61 in the Dayton Fieldhouse last December, and the losers went into a tailspin that lasted for half the season.

In other Ohio college basketball games on Monday night's light schedule, Xavier was trounced 79-56 by eleventh-ranked Kansas, Capital nipped Heidelberg 80-78 in overtime in an Ohio Conference game, All-ance, Pa., beat Steubenville 57-50, Youngstown downed Hillsdale 97-55, John Carroll beat Adelbert 91-86 and Otterbein started a New England tour with a 104-95 victory over New Hampshire College.

Luther Rackley, with 14 points led Xavier's weak attack on the Jayhawks' aggressive zone defense. Phil Harmon, with 16 points, and Jo Jo White with 15 led the winners.

Capital evened its record at 2-2 at Heidelberg while handing the Student Princes their first defeat. Otterbein got 39 points from Lorenzo Hunt in its victory.

Youngstown's John McElroy and Denny Steinbeck combined for 45 points in an easy victory. Tom Accamando's layup with eight seconds to play gave Alliance its decision at Steubenville, while Bill DeLong settled the John Carroll-Adelbert President's Conference game by making nine out of nine foul shot attempts in the last three minutes.

Hawkins Advances In ABA Statistics

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Minnesota's Connie Hawkins became the first player in American Basketball Association history to top 50 points twice when he hit 53 at Denver last Thursday.

Just the week before, on Nov. 27, Hawkins tossed in 57 against New York to set a league scoring record.

ABA statistics released Monday show the Minnesota sharpshooter has boosted his scoring average from 31.5 to 34.2 in the last 10 days to pull within striking distance of pace-setting Rick Barry of Oakland, who leads the ABA with a 34.7 aver-

Elvin Hayes Holds NBA Scoring Title

NEW YORK (AP) — Rookie Elvin Hayes, whose point production has driven the San Diego Rockets into second place in the Western Division, maintained his scoring lead in the National Basketball Association, according to figures released today by the league.

The 6-foot-8 Big E from Houston tops the circuit with a 30.0 scoring average and in total points with 811. Elgin Baylor of Western leader Los Angeles is the runnerup with a 27.4 average and 739 points.

New Orleans Rips Oakland, 145-139

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — "James Jones is one of the best guards that I've ever seen," said Alex Hannum.

The Oakland coach was looking through a window from a darkened office most of the time that the 6-foot-4 New Orleans player was scoring 48 points against the Oaks.

The Buccaneers upset Rick Barry and Oakland 145-139 Monday night in American Basketball Association activity. It was the only game in either the ABA or NBA.

Cincinnati Youth Mired In Mud

CINCINNATI (AP) — Danny McCurk, a Cincinnati youth, fell into a six-foot hole at an excavation site near his home and wound up in mud almost to his neck. A friend tried for a half hour to free him, then called firemen who took 1½ hours more to free Danny.

Afterward, the youth said, "Yeah! It was like, well, like gush, I guess."

Browns Ready Ticket Sales For Playoff Tilt

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Over-the-counter sale of tickets for the National Football League's Eastern Conference playoff game begins today, the Cleveland Browns announce.

The Browns, winner of the Century Division title, will meet the Capitol Division champion Dallas Cowboys at Cleveland Stadium on Saturday, Dec. 21.

The winner will advance to the NFL championship game against the Western Conference winner.

The Browns said tickets for the Dallas game will be sold at the club's regular ticket outlets in Cleveland — Gate A at the Stadium, Richman Brothers at 736 Euclid Ave., and Burrows at 419 Euclid Ave.

The club said it also would continue to accept and fill mail orders for tickets. Wednesday is the deadline for season ticket holders to order tickets for the playoff game, it added.

Frazier Favored Against Bonavena

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Joe Frazier is a 2-1 favorite to successfully defend his six-state heavyweight championship tonight in a scheduled 15-rounder against Oscar Bonavena of Argentina.

Frazier agrees with the odds-makers. "I'll smoke him out in six," claims the confident champion from Philadelphia.

"He's gonna go," says Frazier of the curly, black-haired Argentine, who two years ago twice knocked him down before losing a hotly disputed split decision in New York.

Ashville Children Enjoy Local Day Care Nursery

PLAYTHINGS — To all children toys are important. Three children at the Day Care Center take their pick from a large box of toys provided for their enjoyment. Supervising the play is Mrs. William Sherertz.

It's been a rather frolicsome Monday and Friday for many Ashville area youngsters the past couple of months.

About a dozen children ages three to five years old are attending a twice weekly Child Day Nursery sponsored by the Pickaway County Community Action Organization (PICCA).

The program is held in the parish house of First English Lutheran Church of Ashville.

Daily activities for the children include lessons and exercises to improve each child's dexterity, drawing, and reading to the children plus supervised play. There is one hot meal each day and a morning snack. There will be medical and dental examinations with followups according to need.

In addition, there are frequent field trips to areas of interest and importance such as the police and fire station and library.

Started by PICCA two months ago, the nursery is staffed by Mrs. Chester Hedges, teacher, Mrs. Anita Hayne, PICCA nurse, and Wilma Cardenas, Mae Belle Godby, Bernice Martin and Janice Greeno, home-health aides. Mrs. William Sherertz, a social worker with Pickaway County Child Welfare, worked with PICCA in arranging the program. Mrs. Sherertz formerly worked in day care in Cleveland.

Also assisting are Mrs. Alice Thom of the State Health Department, Judy Reithmiller, a PICCA Head Start teacher the past two years, and Rita Hackett, a Head Start social worker last summer.

Mrs. Karen Frantz is now serving as a volunteer social worker for the program.

A part-time teacher will begin soon and work with the children on visual and oral association, such as recognizing animals and sounding out their names, counting and letter forming.

Eligibility is determined by income guidelines set by the national Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO).

Commenting on the program, Mrs. Hayne said, "It is already proving its value. You can see the children responding in many ways."

Mike Flynn, PICCA director, said "The Day Nursery was the work of many people. We are very grateful to the church and Pastor Robert Michelfelder for availing the facilities, and all the individuals who have contributed time and materials," he added.

'Flying Bandit' Paroled; Faces Ohio Charges

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A man wanted here on an armed robbery charge is being held in Fulton County, Ga., for Akron authorities following his release from the federal penitentiary at Atlanta.

Frank Lawrence Sorenz, 38, once known as the "Flying Bandit," was paroled Monday from the penitentiary where he was serving a 25-year sentence for bank robbery and interstate transportation of a stolen airplane.

Sorenz was being held in Summit County Jail here on the armed robbery charge when he escaped in 1959 and robbed a bank at Hamilton, Ohio, of $25,000. He was arrested in Mexico later that year and sentenced at Cincinnati for the bank robbery.

Police said Sorenz taught himself to fly after breaking out of jail and turned up in various parts of the United States and Canada with stolen planes.

New violence struck San Francisco State College Monday as administrators at five of the nation's colleges grappled with the problems, protests and Negro-oriented demands presented by militant student demonstrators.

Rock-throwing demonstrators shattered 22 windows at San Francisco State before about 220 policemen, including a mounted unit, broke up a crowd estimated at nearly 1,000.

Violence has become a common occurrence on the 18,000-student campus during a five-week student strike over issues including demands for a black studies department and amnesty for all arrested.

Acting president S. I. Hayakawa, who has coupled the use of police with some concessions during his seven-day tenure, told newsmen, "I think I'm on the right track. I'm confident that what I'm doing is right."

At Northern Michigan University in Marquette about 150 Negro students raised their hands in a clenched fist salute during the playing of the National Anthem before a basketball game with Pan American College of Edinburg, Tex.

Tame Deer Is Slain

CLEWISTON, Fla. (AP) — Prince, the tiny white-tail Florida deer who lived in a horse pasture and trusted humans, is dead.

The little buck was a favorite of people who came from miles around to rancher Joe Hilliard's pasture and fed him cookies, fruit and bread.

Sunday evening Hilliard's farm manager said he saw a man drive up to the pasture alongside busy U.S. 27 and get out of a camper truck. Prince came loping up for his usual handout.

"He was about five feet away when the guy shot him in the neck with a load of No. 1 buckshot," said Hendry County Sheriff Earl S. Dyess.

Later Sheriff's men located the truck and arrested Richard DeBussey Jr., 27, of Jupiter, Fla., who was charged with killing the animal of another and discharging a firearm within one mile of a state highway.

Negroes, officials said. Negro students at Washington University in a St. Louis suburb said their peaceful sit-in would continue until the school meets demands for a black studies program and more financial aid for Negro students.

A special student-faculty committee took testimony Monday on complaints from 11 Negro students who charged harassment by campus police officers. The alleged manhandling of a Negro graduate student touched off the protest last week.

In New York City the Rev. Leo McLaughlin, president of Fordham University agreed to work toward implementation of a number of Negro student demands but his response was denounced by one student leader as "soft soap."

One demand is for a 20 per cent Negro enrollment at the 12,000-student Jesuit institution. Less than 1 per cent of the present enrollment are Negroes.

State University officials in Oshkosh, Wis., said they would meet a federal court ordered deadline for making individual complaints against 90 students, most of them Negro, who were suspended last month following a campus demonstration marked by vandalism.

The protest Nov. 21 erupted after administrators turned down student demands for more Negro faculty and courses in Negro history. It resulted in the temporary closing of the school. And in Buffalo, N.Y., an open forum on the question "Is there police brutality in Buffalo?" was disrupted when the panel members were pelted by eggs thrown from the audience at the State University at Buffalo.

The shower of five to seven dozen eggs began when a false fire alarm sounded, leading officials to speculate that the alarm was used as a signal to commence the barrage.

Officials apologized and promised to try and identify and prosecute the offenders.

Eye Cleveland Police Shooting

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The police prosecutor is to rule in the death of a 21-year-old East Side man who was shot by a policeman after he failed to obey the officer's orders to stop his car.

Lewis Hall died in St. Vincent Charity Hospital Monday afternoon, about 11 hours after he was shot in the head.

Police said he was shot by patrolman James Perkins in the area of East 98th Street and Benham Avenue. Perkins said he opened fire when Hall failed to heed his orders to halt after Hall's car had swerved on the slippery pavement and knocked the patrolman to the ground. Perkins was not hurt.

DRAWING — Miss Bernice Martin shows the children how to draw and cut out pictures. The activity, besides being enjoyable to the children, helps improve their manual dexterity.

STORIES — Part of the day's activities include stories about other children and other lands. Pastor Robert Michelfelder of the First English Lutheran Church of Ashville, which furnishes the meeting place for the nursery, reads a "Bible" story to the children.
